K PROFITEERS TO FACE URY CHARGES TOMORROW

They Employ High-Priced Legal Talent to Defend Them in eir Endeavor to Escape Punishment for Unlawful Practices—Large Crowd Expected

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock the milk profiteers of Los Angeles will face Judge Sidney Reeve to plead to indictments charging them with the crime of conspiring against trade.

It is expected that a large crowd will take advantage of the opportunity of seeing the gentlemen who have won unenviable recognition and a fat living for themselves by robbing little babies of their selling milk at the outrageous price of 16 cents a quart.

It is likely that other spectators at the arraignment will include a number of producers who have been driven out of business by the milk combine.

High-Priced Counsel

The profiteers are fortunate in having plenty of money to engage high-priced legal talent to defend them. Of their attorneys is Le Compte Davis, well-known criminal lawyer, who is the man who defended Ruth Snyder, New York murderess, who was prosecuted and convicted by District Attorney Joab Banton on a charge of murdering her husband.

Outrages Disclosed

It is now freely rumored that other indictments will be brought against the milk trust. New matters brought before the county grand jury are being presented by Deputy District Attorney Powell, who directed the investigation which resulted in the indictments of the 18 men and 14 corporations last week.

Forced Out of Business

The new investigation is said to concern the experience of Leo Steiner, a Redondo beach dairyman and distributer. Steiner claims he was driven out of business after he refused to sell out to the Crescent Creamery of Los Angeles. He makes the further charge that his license was revoked by the Redondo beach board of trustees, although a bacteriologist had asserted that the milk he was selling was of superior quality, and he asserts that they were influenced to take this action by the Crescent Creamery of Los Angeles.

According to a report made to Powell by the county health department, Steiner's was a model dairy. The report states further that Steiner was always eager to adopt any suggestions offered by the health authorities.

Officials of Redondo beach city government have been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury, who will get to the bottom of this affair.

WAR ROMANCE HAS CULMINATION IN WEDDING BELLS

Announcement is made of the marriage at Chico, on Monday, June 27, of Laurence Chester Rowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Rowe, 216 South Orange street, and Miss Elizabeth Pitts of San Francisco.

Concealed in this matter-of-fact announcement is an interesting war romance. Laurence is an ex-service man, who lay seriously ill in the Letterman hospital in San Francisco for seven months. Miss Pitts and her mother were in the habit of visiting the soldiers; in this way made the acquaintance of Mr. Rowe, and the friendship thus formed grew into a romance which culminated in their marriage on Monday, Rev. Mr. Osborn officiating.

After a honeymoon spent at the summer home of the bride's parents, in the mountains, 125 miles north of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Rowe will make their home in San Francisco.

The bride is an accomplished young woman, popular in a large circle of friends in and about the northern metropolis. Laurence Rowe is well known in Glendale, having lived here many years. He is a graduate of the high school of the class of 1917.

MANY ARE INJURED.

BARCELONA, Spain, July 1.—Twelve persons were injured when four bombs were thrown in Catalina square this morning. The explosions were followed by a wild panic.

ALL THE WORLD AND FISTIC HEROES ARE INTERESTED IN BIG FIGHT

Barring Brother Isaiah practically every celebrity in this country and the balance of the world at large has been given an opportunity to express opinion in regard to the outcome of the world's championship battle tomorrow when Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier clash in New Jersey.

Only the other day George Bernard Shaw stepped over the traces of dramaturgy into pugilistica and conceded the French idol an edge over the world's champ. Perhaps on this stand, if on no other, George Bernard earns the revision of spelling that has been aptly applied to his last name. Certainly if those who follow his tip and bet on Carpentier should lose he will be henceforth known to them as George Bernard "Pshaw."

Arrayed on the side of Dempsey and predicting that he will clout the French heavyweight for a goal are such notable ringfollowers as Corbett, Johnson, Beckett, Meehan, Coulon, Wilson, Brennan and Welsh. Counterbalancing this lineup, however, are Mike Gibbons, Jeanette, Choynski and Levinsky who assert their money is on Carpentier.

Prophesies are easy to make, but the fact that men who have been associated with professional boxing all their lives should divide opinion as to the outcome of the fight is a clear indication that the guessing element is a big factor in predictions.

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM WILL BE GIVEN ON SANITARIUM LAWN

A celebration of Independence Day will be held at the Glendale sanitarium and hospital at the corner of East Broadway and Jackson street next Monday afternoon at the hour of three o'clock.

All citizens who can do so are invited to come and participate in the event. The lawn is shaded by tall trees and many shrubs and is a delightful spot most suitable for the occasion.

The following program has been prepared by the entertainment committee:

Singing of the patriotic song "America."

Prayer by the chaplain.

The Flag, by Mrs. Virginia Hansen.

A recitation by Virginia Kimlin.

Instrumental Trio, "Venetian Serenade." Flute, Miss Elsie Lord; cello, E. J. Moore; piano, Mrs. A. Belle Johnson.

A patriotic speech by Elder E. L. Neff.

Recitation by Phyllis Kimlin.

Soprano solo, "L'Ardito," "If I But Knew" (Smith), Mrs. Leitch.

Reading by Mrs. Rich.

Contralto solo, "Gavotte" (J. Massenet), "The Shoogy Shoo" (Mayhew), by Retta King Nelson.

Flag drill by the nurses.

Salute to the flag.

"Star Spangled Banner."

PROSPECTS BRIGHTER FOR POSTOFFICE FOR GLENDALE

Beginning This Morning All Letters Leaving Local Postoffice Will Bear the Words "Glendale, Calif."—Important Innovation and Will Benefit This City

On and after today the outside semblance of letters going out of Glendale will not give the impression that this city is a "dinky" little burg, a mere, unimportant appendage to Los Angeles.

Beginning with this morning all letters leaving the local postoffice bear a Glendale stamp—not a word about Los Angeles on it. "Glendale, Calif., July 1, 12 M.," is the way the noon mail was stamped today.

This important change is made by virtue of a new electric cancelling machine which arrived at the Glendale postoffice this morning. This machine is electrically operated and cancels 600 letters or cards a minute.

This is really an important innovation for Glendale. Letters from this city go out to every nook and corner of the United States as well as to foreign parts, and the Glendale stamp on them is important publicity.

Better yet, we are getting action looking to an independent postoffice. Dr. Harrower, who has taken a vital interest in this much-desired project and who is chairman of the chamber of commerce postoffice committee, has received the following telegram from W. E. Evans, who went to Washington several days ago, bearing with him the petition praying for the establishment of an independent postoffice in Glendale:

"Petition for postoffice presented to Postmaster-General Hays and his first assistant, by Lineberger and myself. Most courteous hearing given, with assurance that matter will receive every consideration."

GIFTED INVENTOR RESIDENT OF THE JEWEL CITY

Glendale is the home of people of numerous and diverse talents; musicians, writers, actors and artists are among those who find the Jewel City an inspiring place in which to live.

Among Glendale's gifted inhabitants is Mrs. Lorna M. Jewell of 1715 Gardena avenue.

The latest of these is a street enunciaton which shows the next cross street as one rides along in the street car. That Mrs. Jewell's invention has merit is evidenced by the fact that she has placed it with the San Francisco Municipal Railway company.

PRESBYTERIANS TO FEATURE MUSIC PATRIOTIC SERVICE

Music as a potent influence will be strongly featured at the patriotic service to be held at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday evening. There will be eight special musical features by the organ numbers.

Rev. W. Simonds, the pastor, will tell a true an interest story, illustrative of the power of song on the human heart deals with the deep impression on the heart of a boy by hymn several times the hymn, "Does Jesus Care?" Later as he lay dying on a battle field in France the boy came back to him; he was conscious and died with these words on his lips: "Does Jesus Care?"

A beautiful singing of this story will be the singing by Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts of the hymn that made such an impression on the soldier that it brought him christ.

DEATH CLAIMS WELL-LOVED RESIDENT OF GLENDALE YESTERDAY

The death of Mrs. George F. Adams, Thursday evening, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. H. Laubach in Los Angeles, will bring a pang of sorrow to her large circle of friends in this city where she and her good husband resided for many years at 350 Ivy street, and were reckoned among its best citizens. She had been in ill health for some time and in fact has never been well since the death of her husband about 18 months ago in an auto accident. She will be missed in the Congregational church in which she and Mr. Adams were actively interested and her death will be a loss to the Tuesday Afternoon club of which she was a much esteemed member.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Little Church of the Flowers and interment will be in Forest Lawn.

ENGAGEMENT OF YOUNG COUPLE IS ANNOUNCED AT A PARTY

The many friends of Miss Ida Potter and Jesse H. Flower will be interested in the news of their engagement, which was announced Wednesday evening at a little party given by Miss Potter's mother, Mrs. Maude L. Potter, at her home at 906 East Harvard street.

The announcement, which was made in a unique manner, took the form of a verse of poetry, together with double hearts bearing the names of Miss Potter and her fiance, enclosed in a little bag concealed under the floral decoration which centered the table, but which was attached to the place card by a silk ribbon.

Mr. Flower's service in the great war explained the red, white and blue color scheme carried out in the dining room where a buffet luncheon was served.

Mr. Flower and his bride-to-be are prominent among the young people of our city, and their many friends are hastening to congratulate them.

NEARLY 1000 KILLED.

DUBLIN, July 1.—Nearly one thousand persons were killed in Ireland from January 1 up to today, according to an official casualty list issued todayy. The victims are listed as follows: Civilians—647 killed, 606 wounded; crown forces—352 killed, 516 wounded.

HOLLYOD MASONS GUEST OF UNITY CHAER LAST ENING

Unity Chapter No. 116, Royal Arch Masons, of which Ernest Morgan is high priest, last night entertained with a 6 o'clock banquet at the Masonic Temple, about 60 officers and members of the Hollywood Chapter, covers being laid for 120. The tables were prettily decorated with carnations of red, the Royal Arch color, and following the dinner there was a brief address of greeting by High Priest Morgan, followed by addresses by Grand High Priest Mattison B. Jones and High Priest Herman Bennett of the Hollywood organization.

At 8 o'clock an adjournment was taken to the lodge hall above, where the Royal Arch degree was put on by officers of the visiting chapter, the session lasting until 11 p. m.

BAKERY UDER A NEW MANAGEMENT

The bakery at 1[illegible] East Broadway has just been transferred to new management. J. O'Connor, an experienced and quite successful baker of the east has purchased the business and in the future it will be recognized as the Glendale Bakery company. Mr. O'Connor will be welcomed to the mercantile circles of Glendale.

RETIRING BOARD CITY TRUSTEES CLOSE THEIR WORK LAST NIGHT

With its last meeting Thursday night in the council chamber of the city hall, the board of city trustees passed into history, to make way for the city council, for which the newly adopted city charter provides and whose members were chosen at the municipal election last Tuesday. Very little unfinished business has been left for the new council to clean up, and such municipal enterprises as are in progress are thoroughly understood by the three men returned to service—Dwight Stephenson, Spencer Robinson and A. H. Lapham.

At the close of the session, Mrs. Bartlett and Mr. Stephenson expressed the pleasure which their association upon the board had brought them and the hope that the friendships thus formed would always continue.

Proposed Auto Camp Ground

The first business with which the board concerned itself was the application presented by Earl Welch at the last meeting for a permit to establish an automobile park and camping ground for auto tourists, on four acres of land owned by him at 920 East Palmer avenue. A communication from the city manager, to whom the matter had been referred, quoted a letter received by him from W. R. Reynolds of 800 East Palmer avenue who is much opposed to such a camp as being likely to damage property values in that neighborhood. A formal protest signed by Mr. Reynolds and others representing, he said, 90 per cent of the residents of the locality, was presented, urging the board not to grant the application.

Owen Emery, as attorney for Mr. Welch, addressed the board, asking if there was an ordinance prohibiting the use of private grounds for an auto camp ground.

Hartley Shaw, as attorney for the city, replied there is no such an ordinance and under present conditions the board has no jurisdiction. Mr. Emery then defended the right of his client to carry on the business proposed, urging the great need of such a camp ground to accommodate tourists passing through Glendale or who contemplate locating here and want temporary shelter while looking around. He set forth Mr. Welch's intention to maintain a sanitary, well ordered camp and appealed to Secretary Rhoades of the Chamber of Commerce for testimony as to the need of such a camp. Mr. Rhoades confirmed his declaration relative to the need and the desire of the chamber to see an auto camp established somewhere.

Trustee Stephenson expressed the opinion that an ordinance should be drafted to regulate auto camping places, but added that until such an ordinance is adopted the board can do nothing except to receive and file the application for permit and the protest against the proposed camp.

Sierra District Petition

On behalf of residents of the Sierra district, in Scholl canyon, who have filed a petition for the calling of an election to vote upon the annexation of that district to the city of Glendale, Secretary Rhoades of the chamber of commerce urged immediate action, declaring that the board had no authority to delay the matter because the requisite number of property owners had signed the petition and the need of annexation on account of water service and others advantages desired was urgent. City Attorney Shaw explained that the delay had been occasioned by what he considered a faulty description of the territory to be annexed. Mr. Pelley, who was one of the signers of the petition, stated that the description had been written by Glendale's city engineer and he considered it accurate. Engineer Hill confirmed his statement, and Mr. Pratt, an abstract expert who was present, said, when appealed to, that he considered it a good description. On motion of Trustee Lapham the board then instructed the city attorney to draft proceedings for the calling of the desired election. This will in no way be in conflict with the understanding with Mr. Edwards of Edwards & Wildey, who is a large property owner in Scholl canyon and who does not desire annexation, and the board, that it would defer action until July 7.

Protest From Geneva Street

A communication signed by residents of Geneva street, protesting against the extension of the Fox-Woodsum Lumber company's lumber yards outside the industrial zone and the piling of lumber on lots adjacent to the residence of Mr. Simon, to the damage and menace of his property. City Manager Watson stated that no permit had been secured by the lumber company for this extension, as required by ordinance, though the com-

PERMITS FOR JUNE EXCEED LAST YEAR

Vastly exceeding all predictions made early in June, the building permits issued for the past month, according to figures on record at the building department at the city hall, reached a value of $91,990 in excess of the value of those issued during the month of June, 1920, when the total stood at $202,971 as compared with $294,961 for June this year.

The record for 1920 which was considered the high water mark of building activity seems doomed to run second to 1921, for already with but half of the current year over the value of permits issued during the six months is two-thirds of the total for the entire year of 1920. To date the figures for the current year stand at $1,956,399 as compared with $3,137,264 for all of 1920.

DAILY PRESS TO BULLETIN BIG FIGHT RESULTS

Bulletins detailing the fight for the heavyweight championship of the world tomorrow, will be displayed at the Press Office, 222 South Brand boulevard, beginning at 11 a. m. From the moment Carpentier, champion of Europe, and Dempsey, holder of the world's title, climb under the ropes, the progress of events will be flashed to the Daily Press over a special wire that will be held until the finish of the fight.

The Press wishes to extend an invitation to Glendale people who are interested in the fight, to take advantage of this opportunity to obtain full and immediate returns round by round on the big fight in Jersey City that will determine the championship of the world.

GLENDALE ELKS TAKE NOTICE!

All members of the Glendale Elks who have ordered marching suits are requested to get them immediately at Foreman & Clark's, Fifth and Broadway, Los Angeles. The time is getting short and some of these suits will need alteration, so it is imperative that members call at once for them, in order to have them on time.

The members are also requested to secure their marching shoes at Crofton's store, 105 North Brand boulevard. Hats, banners and ties may be secured at the club. It is desired that the Elks give these matters their prompt attention.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—President and Mrs. Harding left here early this afternoon for Raritan, N. J., where they will spend the Fourth of July with Senator and Mrs. Frelinghuysen.

CARPENTIER MAY BE A GOOD FIGHTER BUT CAN'T BOX A PICTURE

More than a year ago, when the European heavyweight champion Carpentier was in New York, an elderly woman, living in the same hotel as that occupied by the French boxing idol, declared that no matter how much of a fighter Carpentier might be he couldn't box a picture. It would be interesting to know whether this dowager is placing her money on Dempsey or the boxer she slandered.

The lady's assertion was based on a situation which occurred when she was about to have a picture hanging in her hotel room shipped to a friend. She called the desk clerk on the house telephone, and asked if she might speak to the carpenter.

Unwittingly the clerk connected her with Georges Carpentier's room and the French heavyweight answered the phone sputtering with indignation when asked if he would come to Room 250 to box a picture.

MRS. THOMPSON HAS HAPPY BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. Mary T. West of 310 North Maryland entertained Thursday afternoon in celebration of the birthday of her mother, Mrs. Sarah Thompson. Pleasant games and a short musical program furnished by Miss Margaret West, daughter of the hostess, entertained guests, after which ice cream, cake and candy were served.

Mrs. West's home was beautifully decorated with sweet peas, roses and ferns, and the refreshment table was featured by a beautiful birthday cake bearing 16 pink candles.

Ladies present were: Mrs. W. J. Smith, Mrs. M. P. Harrison, Dr. Laura Brown, Mrs. George McDill, Miss Sargent, Mrs. W. E. Edmonds, Mrs. Sloan, Mrs. Chambers, Mrs. Shugart, Mrs. Isitt, Miss Bohannon, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Keers, Mrs. Clendenin, Mrs. Lilly, Mrs. Baker, all of Glendale, and Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. Crank, Mrs. Olberg of Los Angeles, and Miss Baldwin of Pasadena.

LARGE LUMBER YARD IS PURCHASED BY FOX-WOODSUM COMPANY

Rumors which have been current for some time relative to negotiations for the sale of the business and plant of the Kent Lumber & Supply company at Harvard and San Fernando road to the Fox Woodsum company for a cash consideration of between $40,000 and $50,000 have been confirmed by Roy Kent, who states that the transaction has been closed and that it involves the sale of all lumber and other supplies, and the lease of three acres of ground and all buildings thereon, including the planing mill, from the Kent company. This is the largest lumber yard in the city in point of area. Mr. Kent explained that because of the heavy demands made upon his time and energies by his contracting business, he desires to be relieved of some of his outside enterprises and was therefore ready to consider the offer of the Fox-Woodsum company.

NEW PRESIDENT OF OCCIDENTAT WILL ARRIVE SOON

Dr. Remsen Dubois Bird, recently elected president of Occidental college will arrive in Los Angeles early in August to make plans for the fall semester, it was learned yesterday.

The nature of changes that may be made at Occidental has not yet been given out by Dr. Bird, but it is understood that he will make every effort to better the scholastic standing of the college. Bearing out this course it was announced yesterday by the registrar at the Eagle Rock school that many students seeking entrance to the college for the fall opening have been rejected because of unsatisfactory credentials.

E. B. ELLIAS MADE PHOTO FOR CUT

The excellent three-column cut illustrating the story in yesterday's Daily Press, of the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Milligan, was made from a picture taken by E. B. Ellias, well-known photographer of Glendale, whose studio address is 104 West Cypress avenue.

Mr. Ellias sat up half the night to get the picture finished in time to get the cut made for yesterday's issue of the Press, to accommodate this [illegible]ure to Co[illegible]

DAMAGED

On these hot summer days it is pure folly to attempt to go into the City to do one's shopping, for there, if anywhere, it is HOT! Why, when one can secure the same quality goods for often less money than in the city, try to make the effort? The merchants of Glendale are here to serve you, which they do in the most efficient and courteous manner possible, and they are buying their goods to sell to YOU at the very closest margin. It is therefore to your interests to BUY AT HOME, to help BOOST GLENDALE, and make it in the near future, a large city! With YOUR help it CAN BE DONE!

MARTHA MALICIA

Yes, Chummey was as good as her word, and my letter was awaiting me at the Barnes Shuck Music Co. of 211 N. Brand Blvd. this morning. I know that you must be as anxious as I was to learn more of the mysteries of the Ampico, so I'll not keep you in suspense any longer.

My dearest Martha Malicia;

When we arrived at the recording laboratories today, the great Mr. Stoddard, who invented the Ampico, was there. He explained how the most popular numbers from the latest musical comedies are selected and immediately recorded. Every care is taken to present an environment in which the artist will be at his best. It is often necessary, Mr. Stoddard says, to ask an exceptionally emotional artist to simply "run over" the selection to test the piano, and when finished he is told that it has been recorded! I understand that the editor of the Ampico catalogue, Mr. Leopold Godowsky, makes his home in your glorious Southern California.

Martha dear, do go right down to the Barnes Shuck Music Co., that most delightful new store about which you wrote me, (at 211 N. Brand Blvd., isn't it?) and ask them to play for you on either their Knabe, Franklin or Haines Bros. Ampico, these wonderful selections: Caprice Viennoisse by that incomparable composer - musician, Fritz Kreisler; then Leopold Godowsky in the Rustle of Spring, and your favorite, Liebestraum, by Leo Ornstein, the brilliant boy musician. You'll enjoy them; the Ampico reproduces the selections exactly as the artist played them.

And really, dear friends, I can't describe to you the wonders of that magic instrument; you must hear it yourself to appreciate it. Just drop in at the Barnes Shuck Music Co. and ask to hear any of their Ampico rolls; they'll be glad to demonstrate them to you at any time.

Cordially Yours,
MARTHA MALICIA.

Suggestions For The Housewife.

For it is her responsibility to keep the home clean and attractive.

WHY have marred and unsightly floors, when Kyanize Floor Finish, which is made expressly to resist the scuff and tread of heavy shoes on a floor, wears longer than any other finish and will look well for a long time?

WHY not have your walls and woodwork sanitary and easily washable as well as beautiful? Kyanize washable Celluloid Finish will completely transform that old finish into a thing of beauty.

WHY buy new furniture to replace the old and worn pieces when two coats of Kyanize will successfully turn the trick?

WHY let your front door with its cracked and blistered varnish and generally weatherbeaten "countenance" mar the otherwise attractive appearance of your home? Kyanize is neither affected by wind, rain, heat or cold and has proven its durability under most strenuous tests.

WHY allow your front door knob to repulse rather than welcome your guests. Kyanize your hardware fixtures and they'll always present a new and shining face.

Kyanize Finish, on sale at Harry Moore's of 304 E. Broadway will solve all of your problems. Mr. Moore carries Kyanize in eight harmonious colors, which you yourself may apply anywhere about the house, both inside and out and on furniture as well, with equally pleasing results from the standpoints of durability and attractiveness.

* * *

No matter how fine the fabric or how badly spotted the garment may be, you can rest assured that if it can be successfully cleaned, it's the Brand Cleaners, of 217 S. Brand Blvd. who can do it!

Better be sure than sorry—lay in a supply of fire-works—NOW!

Real cots to sleep on! Yes, you needn't worry about having to sleep on the ground on that Independence Day trip. The folding cots which are on sale at the Neale & Gregg Hardware Co., are really invaluable on a camping trip, (and particularly when one is as desperately afraid of snakes as yours truly!). They also have many other conveniences for the nature lover and not the least is special collapsible tables and chairs. These very necessary commodities can be adjusted in a jiffy and then folded away to a mere canvas nothing in even less time! What is a camping party without real "camp-cooked food?" Of course, you'll need a camp stove and utensils, and you'll find both of these articles and many other "helps for the camper" at Neale & Gregg's Hardware Store at 107 N. Brand Blvd. Yes, you're right, the children simply couldn't enjoy the Fourth without their fire-works, even though they are out of town. But—don't trust to luck that you'll be able to buy them along the road somewhere,—for you won't! Better lay in a goodly supply of fire-crackers, son-of-a-guns and fancy "noises" from Neale & Gregg's before starting.

* * *

Why not keep a picture record of your Fourth of July trip? The Photo Shop at 219 E Broadway makes excellent enlargements and then—you can have the pictures beautifully colored in their natural hues. For instance—snap a marine scene or a mountain view—have the Photo Shop enlarge and color it and you'll have a perfect reproduction of the charming scene just as you saw it! Add to this, from the Photo Shop, too, an artistic frame of the very newest design in either dull gold or silver, depending of course, on the picture—and you'll have a—MASTERPIECE!

* * *

ATTENTION HUSBANDS! On the Fourth of July, 1776, the Declaration of Independence was signed, making the United States a country free for all, wasn't it? Why not make the Fourth of July, 1921, just as memorable a day in the annals of your household by MAKING YOUR WIFE FREE—freeing her from that giant who haunts so many homes—Hard Work! Oh, yes, it is easy! Just stop in at Washer Wilson's of 140 S. Brand Blvd. and select an electric sweeper for her. An excellent idea, say? All right, but—ssh!—a word to the wise! When you get there will you be going to select? Aha—why not a Sweeper Vac, they run very easily, are handy to operate, do the work thoroughly! Of course Washer Wilson carries several different makes of Vacuum Cleaners but the Sweeper Vac seems to be most popular among the ladies who have bought vacuum. You know Washer Wilson's prices are exceptionally reasonable and you'll find Mr. Wilson most courteous and willing to demonstrate the different makes of vacuums for you. Do it now! Don't wait until Christmas—not next year—but go down to Washer Wilson's today and order yours.

If the decoration of the interior is to attain any measure of success, the wall papers must be suitable to the architecture of the house and the character of the room itself.

Special attention's furniture is now made with no corners and edges are eliminated.

A rather dainty window hanging for summer may be made of Japanese toweling. The patterns and colors are summery. Hang them on either side of the window and use a valance of the same material. These are adaptable to dining rooms and bed-rooms.

AN EFFORT TO MAKE GLENDALE PAY A PART OF COST OF FLAGMAN

One of the communications of the city manager to the board of trustees at its regular meeting Thursday night concerned the question of a flagman at the Southern Pacific crossing at Brand boulevard. It included a copy of a letter from W. H. Whalen, general superintendent of the Los Angeles division, delivered to him by R. W. Gunn, assistant signal supervisor, which read as follows:

"Los Angeles, June 25, 1921.

"City of Glendale, Glendale, Calif.,
Attention City Manager.

"Gentlemen: Referring to recent correspondence and discussion concerning crossing protection at Brand boulevard, Glendale:

"I have decided to protect the situation immediately by the placing of crossing watchman pending the installation of proper mechanical protection. Inasmuch as you are convinced that protection is necessary, and as it is, of course, impossible to provide mechanical protection without some delay incident to preparation of plans, raising of money and securing material, I am sure you will agree with me that it is proper to provide these watchmen, and I feel that it is properly the duty of the city of Glendale to join in the cost.

"I assume that proper distribution of expense will be allocated by the railroad commission, and the action now taken on my part is not to be construed as assumption of expense on the part of the railroad company.

Yours truly,
(Signed) W. H. WHALEN."

In comment on this letter Mr. Watson's communication continued:

"Mr. Gunn further stated on behalf of Mr. Whalen that the flagman had been placed at this intersection Monday morning and that the hours would be from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m.

"As matters now stand the traffic at this crossing will be protected by flagmen until the installation of automatic mechanical protection device as ordered by railroad commission and the expense of maintaining the watchmen as between the city of Glendale and Southern Pacific company will be distributed by the railroad commission.

"On behalf of your board we have acknowledged receipt of Mr. Whalen's letter thanking him for his prompt and favorable action upon your request for temporary protection at this intersection."

Considerable discussion followed the reading of this communication. Members of the board were agreed that no part of the expense of providing a flagman to protect the public from Southern Pacific trains should be borne by the city. Jesse Smith, who was in the audience, suggested that if no protest was filed by the city pending action by the railroad commission, it might be construed as an acceptance of responsibility. The city manager was therefore instructed to address a letter to the railroad commission stating the position of the city and asking that it be not called upon to pay any of the expense of maintaining a flagman.

WIFE KILLED TO END HER AGONY

LONDON, July 1. — "The doctor gives euthanasia to hopeless agony. The soldier spares a thrust or a shot to a writhing comrade. Any decent man shoots his women folk to save them from dishonor!"

Such was the explanation made by E. R. Eardley for killing himself and his wife in their little cottage at Southborough.

Mrs. Eardley was a hopeless invalid, and her disease had developed to the point where it became necessary to place her in a home for the mentally afflicted. This fact preyed upon her husband's mind, and one of the saddest features of the affair was that, while he was devotedly attached to his wife, she, in her insane moods, fancied that her husband's love had changed to hatred.

For almost a year Mrs. Eardley had been in a private home, during which time her husband sold a successful business and took a small cottage at Southborough in the hope that the change of climate would be of benefit to her.

She, however, became worse, and the fact was communicated to the husband that she would have to be placed in a public institution. In the letter from which the extracts above are made, Eardley also said:

"For two years now my wife has lived in hourly torment. Her condition grows daily worse. I can do nothing more for her; my will to live and win is broken. There is nothing before her but the madhouse, without even the alleviation I have been able to bring.

"However human law may regard the matter, my conscience justifies me; indeed, I should live a coward in my own esteem if I failed her in this extremity."

Even in his sorrow Eardley thought of those who would discover the tragedy, and in the letter he wrote to the friend telling him of his determination, he added:

"The bodies of myself and my dear wife will be found together in the little dressing-room. Great care must be taken in entering the house; the dressing-room and communicating bedroom will be full of gas."

After hearing all the testimony and reading the letter the jury found that the dead man took his own life and that of his wife while he was temporarily of unsound mind and added an expression of sympathy with the relatives.

TURKISH PRINCE SEEKS JOB HERE

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 1.—Here is a chance for any employer, anywhere in the United States, to obtain a guaranteed title—provided he can find space on his payroll for a genuine nobleman.

Applying at the Knights of Columbus American Service Bureau in Constantinople for a job, an ex-member of the Sultan's forces, claiming to be Prince Oshrahy Beni, of Abyssinia, thirty-one, unmarried (his harem was left behind in Abyssinia), says that he will make any American a Sheik who, in his own dignified words, "can honor me with a position in his concern that will provide maintenance in accord with my status."

The Prince's present status consists of three square meals per day, with the corners knocked off. The only recommendation that Fred W. Milan, K. of C. supervisor, with whom the Prince filed his application, gives the candidate for an American job is that he's expert at rolling the "makin's" for cigarettes. Still, if some American office boss yearns for the Asiatic distinction of Sheik, entitling him to wear purple pants, a shovel beard and a turban, the Prince will oblige, if room can be found on the payroll.

SAILORS AGAIN ON SEA IN OWN BOATS

(By International News Service)

RAGUSA, July 1.—The Dalmatian sailors are again at sea on their own boats. The Lovcen, first ship to fly the flag of Jugo-Slavia on the Adriatic, recently made its maiden trip from Bari, Italy, to Ragusa, on the Dalmatian coast, carrying a cargo of American soap and cloth for the destitute peoples of the Balkans.

The Dalmatians succeeded the Phoenicians and the Carthagenians as masters of the sea. In the twelfth century their navies controlled the waters of the known world, and Ragusa is still the walled city that resisted the attacks of the rival Venetians. The rise of Venice in the fourteenth century, and the crushing of the Balkan Powers by the invasion of Austrians and Turks, eclipsed the maritime glory of Dalmatia, and the outbreak of the great war swept her last ship from the Adriatic. The Austrians came down from the north upon the mainland, and the Allies seized the ships as enemy property. Since the recognition of the union of South Slavonic states as Jugo-Slavia these ships are being returned to their owners, and the Dalmatian sea power begins to rise again with the Lovcen.

GENERAL PERSHING ASSUMES DUTIES CHIEF OF STAF

Preparedness Is Goal—Will Aim for Decentralization f Power—Civilian Worth Will Be Recognized by Officials—Uniform Changes Expected

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jul 1.—General John J. Pershing tod assumed his new duties as hea of all the military forces of the nited States.

As Chief of Staff, succeeding Major-General Peyton C. March, whse approaching retirement has been announced, General Pershing is command of the General Staff, th War Department peace-time organation, and as head of the general headquarters organization, authorized by Secretary of War Weeks, he will have charge of the work of recruiting the reserve strength of the Arm and building up the war machine which he will command if the United States again gets into war.

General Pershing is thus pu in a position of more authority than has ever before been bestowed upon an Army officer in time of peace. While nominally chief of staff, he will actually be the executive offi er of the Secretary of War.

Major-General James G Harbord, as assistant to General Pershing, will have charge of the routine work of the General Staff and in reality will fill the position which General March has occupied for more than three years.

Preparedness Is Goal.

It is the intenton of Secretary Weeks that Genera Pershing shall devote the greater part of his time and attention to the poblem of preparing the United States in time of peace for war.

His first task will be that of organizing the Genral Headquarters, which, under present plans, will be built up on the geeral lines of those followed by Marsal Foch in the French army prior to the outbreak of hostilities in 191 On this subject General Pershing has very definite ideas. He saw, in 1917, how the War Department Genel Staff was disrupted when it came necessary to take the cream of officer talent from that organization order to form a staff for overseas uty. He is determined that such situation shall not be brought about ain if he can prevent it.

While the facilties at hand will permit of only a sketon organization, General Pershing tends to build up that skeleton orgization in such a way that it will tadequate to take the field in timef crisis and immediately start futioning as the directing head of American wartime armies. The would, of course, need to be many ditions of personnel to put the orgization on a war footing, but under eneral Pershing's plan there would b trained man for every really vital st who would not only know how trun his job but would also be ready to break in others as his assistants wh the proper time came.

Recognizes Clian Worth.

The present Genl Staff will have charge of all routine matters of ministration in the War Departm during peace time. That organizat would not be interfered with by war-time machine, but in time of would function as the Service of S ply for the Armies in the Field.

General Pershing also has posit notions as to the part the civil soldier should play in our scheme national defense. As a West Po graduate and "regular army ma the General appreciates the value the professional soldier as a nucle upon which to build an army. He bors under no illusions, however, to the comparative importance of t roles played by professional soldie and civilian soldiers during the Wo War. He believes the United Stat has in her youthful male populati the greatest military material in t world, and he saw much of it pro its worth on the battlefields of Fran

The great task, the General believe is to keep these young veterans int ested in the army. He wants the N tional Guard recruited to a streng of 500,000 or more, and he wants see the Officers' Reserve Corps co tinued with its war-time spirit a morale.

The General believes the prese system of training National Guar units is all wrong. Under the prese scheme Regular Army officers who d not "fit" in other jobs are sent out a instructors to National Guard organ zations. They are given no particula instructions as to how their wor shall be carried on, and each man i free to do about as he pleases.

Decentralization Is Aim.

General Pershing is convinced tha instructors should be picked men chosen because they show particula aptitude for the job they are to under take. He believes the officers s chosen should then be sent to a schoo for six or eight months and given a uniform course in military pedagogy in order that there may be uniformity in the instruction they are to impart to embryo soldiers to whom they may later be assigned.

Incidentally, General Pershing is expected to make a few changes in the General Staff. While the nature of these changes has not been divulged officially as yet, it is understood that they will be in the direction of decentralization. The General intends that there shall be no ground in the future for the criticism that the General Staff is usurping the functions of War Department bureaus.

Sam Brown Belt May Return

But the Pershing innovation, which is awaited with greatest expectancy, especially by officers who served overseas, is the suggested modification of the uniform regulations to include the Sam Brown belt. The question of the Sam Brown belt first came up when the American forces went overseas and the "harness" was authorized for use in the A. E. F. At that time it was recommended by a board of general officers for use in the United States, but the proposal was defeated by the opposition, it is said, of General March.

Being a full general, General Pershing has the right to prescribe his own uniform, and it is quite well known that since his return to America he has always worn the Sam Brown belt, regardless of the fact that other officers may not wear it in the United States. It is expected that just as soon as he conveniently can the General will recommend to Secretary Weeks that the Sam Brown belt be adopted as part of the American uniform. General Harbord, too, is understood to favor the belt.

Hence the joy among former overseas officers who, despite two or three years of practice, have never quite got over the feeling that without the Sam Brown they are "half undressed."

ENGLAND ADOPTS AIRPLANE POLICY

By EARL C. REEVES,
(By International News Service)

LONDON, July 1.—Lord Northcliffe's wartime methods of wearing down the "home front" by constant bombardment by propaganda of the civilian territory behind enemy lines is being used in Ireland to-day.

Northcliffe, as director of propaganda in enemy countries, sent aeroplanes loaded with pamphlets telling "the truth about the war" across many miles of territory. The distribution of this "ammunition," it is generally conceded, played a great part in ending the war.

He is to this day ardently hated in Germany.

The application to Ireland of these principles of fighting with ideas is revealed in a dispatch from Millstreet, which is in the heart of the South of Ireland stronghold of Republicanism.

An aeroplane has dropped thousands of leaflets throughout the district, worded as follows:

"Read this, and if you still decide to be led astray by your leaders in the belief that you are 'soldiers' and entitled to be treated as soldiers, you have only yourselves to blame.

"Only armed forces who fulfill certain conditions can avail themselves of the rights conferred by the laws and customs of war.

"These conditions are that they must be commanded by a person responsible for his subordinates, and that they must wear a fixed distinctive sign or uniform, recognizable at a distance.

"They must carry arms openly, and must conduct their operation in accordance with the laws and customs of war."

Sinn Fein has contended that its Irish Republican Army is a national army—that its members, if captured, should be entitled to treatment accorded prisoners of war.

ALLEGED PEDDLER OF DOPE IS ARRESTED HERE YESTERDAY

Charles O. Connor, escaped conviet, dope peddler and burglar was arrested yesterday afternoon by James L. Brown of the Glendale Night Patrol on Broadway near Louise Street within one hour after Brown had received word to be on the lookout for him. When searched at the jail there was found on him several bottles of morphine, cocaine and heroin, a razor and a sum of money.

O'Connor is the man who burglarized the rooms of Pope & Tollett recently and was serving time for this act at the time he made his escape from the county jail. Chief of Police Lampert upon getting the news of the escape sent out instructions to his men to be on the lookout and also informed Mr. Brown who had been instrumental in the capture of O'Connor on a previous occasion. In crossing Louise Street Brown recognized his man a block away. O'Connor made no resistance and at first attempted to deny his identity, but speedily saw the uselessness of this line of argument.

The prisoner is an old offender, having served two terms at McNeil's Island for other crimes. He was taken back to the County Jail by deputies sent out from the sheriff's office.

CAT CEMETERY IN APARTMENT HOUSE

(By International News Service)

BOSTON, July 1.—A cat colony—containing forty-two felines, alive and dead, of all shapes, shades and size, was discovered when Health Department and Animal Rescue League officials forced their way into the apartment of Miss Letty Austin, at No. 108 School street, Roxbury.

Sixteen dead cats, each neatly wrapped in tissue and newspaper, enclosed in pasteboard boxes within wooden cases, were found inside the house, and twenty-six other tabbies, very much alive, disported themselves in the yard.

On the arrival of the officials Miss Austin herded all but eight of the cats from the yard into a closet in the house, barricaded the door and, seating herself in front of it, deffed the officers to take away her pets.

Miss Austin, who is forty-five years old, rents the entire building, occupying apartments on the first floor and renting the other rooms.

BETROTHAL TO SON OF AUTHOR BROKEN

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 1.—Friends of Miss Grace Helen Talbot, daughter of the late Roy Merrick Talbot, and a granddaughter of the late Thomas Talbot, one time Governor of Massachusetts, have learned that her engagement to Robert Husted Chambers, son of Robert W. Chambers, the novelist, has been broken by mutual consent. Miss Talbot, who is a niece of Mrs. Victor Cummock, prominent in Manhattan social circles, has gone to Europe to spend most of the Summer. Her aunt is accompanying her. The engagement of Miss Talbot was announced last Winter. She is a capable sculptress. Mr. Chambers, who is an undergraduate at Harvard, being in his junior year there, is said to be following in the footsteps of his father and is generally loked upon as a budding author.

A MISSISSIPPI NEGRO FARM HAND IS LYNCHED

(By International News Service)

JACKSON, Miss., July 1.—"Red" Bilbro, a negro farm hand, has been lynched by a mob in Madison county, 20 miles north of here, it was learned today. F. M. Pace, on whose farm Bilbro was a tenant, was brought to Jackson and placed in a hospital with his throat cut and skull fractured.

Pace had quarreled with the negro. While Pace was at work, Bilbro hit him over the head with a spade and cut his throat. The unconscious man was then bound by the negro's wife and Bilbro escaped only to be caught later by a posse.

The sheriff tried to take the prisoner, but members of the posse took the negro to the Pace farm, where after being identified by Mrs. Pace, a rope was placed around his neck and he was forced to climb a tree and jump.

Pledges Himself to Duty

"Editor Glendale Press,

"Dear Sir:—Now that the smoke of battle is cleared away, I desire to convey to you my appreciation for the fairness with which your paper treated all candidates during the late municipal campaign, and through your paper desire to extend my sincere thanks to those citizens and organizations who supported me at the election. I desire to especially thank my comrades of the late World War for their loyalty and support. I owe gratitude also to those who had charge of my campaign and I am satisfied that they conducted it in a clean and straightforward manner. I will do my duty as I see it, having made no pre-election pledges and being fettered to no faction.

"I have no resentment against anyone, and now that it is all over I want it all to be forgotten for the good of the city. My political enemies will be my friends if they will permit it.

"I am sure the citizens of Glendale will rally to the support of the new council and as one of its members I pledge myself to give to Glendale a clean and honest administration.

"Respectfully,
"DWIGHT W. STEPHENSON."

PRESENT STATUS OF WATER SYSTEM

New Reservoirs Are Nearing Completion and Second Pumping Unit Ready

City Manager Thomas Watson this morning prepared a resume of the status of the water department which he believed would be of general interest to the public. The account follows:

"The second pumping unit at the San Fernando road pumping plant arrived this morning. It is expected that it will be completely installed and in operation within the next ten days.

This will give the city of Glendale two complete pumping units at the main pumping plant with a capacity each of 333 miner's inches of water that will be supplied by the five wells at the main pumping plant and raised by these two pumps to the reservoirs that are now under construction and nearly completed. One of these is located at the corner of Tenth street and Vine avenue in the Grand View district and might well be called the Grand View reservoir. The capacity of this reservoir is 300,000 gallons.

Sufficient ground has been purchased at this location, however, for the construction later on of a reservoir of seven or eight million gallons capacity. At the rate the city is growng this larger reservoir may be needed within the next three years.

"The other reservoir is located at the entrance to Verdugo canyon between Verdugo road and the Verdugo wash. The capacity of this reservoir is 7,500,000 gallons. This reservoir will in addition to being supplied by these pumping units receive the Verdugo canyon supply from which it will be distributed to the distributing system.

"The large trunk line connecting these reservoirs with the main pumping plant is now all completed so that with the installation of this additional unit within the next ten days, the water supply for the city of Glendale for the present and immediate future will be amply provided for.

There has been great danger during the last few years of a temporary shortage of water in the event of the unit that has supplied the larger amount of the water during the summer months being temporarily out of commission for a short time. We have been fortunate, however, that this has not happened."

DAN CUPID FAVORS CITY OF ANGELS

Building permits and matrimony ran neck and neck for honors during the month of June. It was announced yesterday by the marriage licence bureau in Los Angeles that approximately 1575 couples had been married during the past month compared with 1490 in June last year.

But Cupid has not been active in every city. According to the marriage license clerk in Chicago he fell down miserably in June of this year there having been 600 fewer licenses granted in Chicago than for a corresponding period last year.

DR. FRANK L. RILEY DELIVERS LECTURE TO LARGE GROUP OF PEOPLE

Notwithstanding the fact that many are enjoying their summer outings and vacations, and Glendale has been enjoying the presence of several thousand delegates to the Christian Endeavor convention, the lecture of Dr. Frank L. Riley at the Masonic temple was listened to by an increasing number of persons of the caliber who are surfeited by listening year in and year out to the stereotyped literal Bible theories.

The subject of the doctor as announced, was "The Wise Man Rules His Stars," a brief synopsis of which follows:

Psychology has been defined as "the science of the mind." Also as the "bridge" which unites physics and metaphysics.

Some students are inclined to define thought as though it were a product or function of the brain, which is a mistake. The brain is the istrument of the mind.

Descartes, the great French philosopher, writes: "I think, therefore I am."

Man is fundamentally a thinker which distinguishes him from the lower animals.

Psychology is one of the most important sciences, and it is a science which should be applied to everything in our daily lives.

Some of the fundamental principles of the higher psychology are as follows:

One.—God is the mind which is the one intelligence and the only power.

Two.—Man, the thinker, is the image and likeness of Mind (God). He is a microcosm.

Three.—"Have that mind in you which was also in Jesus Christ."

Four.—"As a man thinketh in his heart so is he."

The person who has pure, beautiful, loving thoughts is the healthy, successful and happy man.

CANADA TO HONOR INDIAN PATRIARCH

(By International News Service)

TORONTO, Ont., July 1.— What boy of Canada of the United States has not thrilled to the exploits of Tecumseh? The conspiracy of the great chief of the Shawnees to unite the Indian tribes into one vast confederation for a last desperate stand against the whites, a plan smashed by Harrison's victory at Tippecanoe, is one of the most absorbing chapters of early American chronicles.

The field where Tecumseh fought his last fight and where he sleeps his last sleep is soon to be transformed into a park. It is Southern Ontario, near Moraviantown, on Thomas river, the scene of the fight known in Canadian annals as the battle of Moraviantown, and in American as the battle of the Thames.

Every day trains whizz over it on the Grand Trunk railway, and autoists traverse it by the Longwoods road. But few know that the farmlands that now divide it are classic ground, over which the Americans waged a hard-fought battle against the British and their Indian allies in the War of 1812. The Tecumseh memorial association of Moraviantown has recently taken steps to cooperate with the Ontario government in converting the battlefield into a highway park.

Tecumseh, according to tradition, was killed in the battle by a shot from the pistol of Col. Richard M. Johnson, of Kentucky, later vice-president of the United States. He was buried on the field, but the exact location of his grave is unknown.

"After the battle," said Chief Tobias, of the Moraviantown Indian reserve, recently, "the Indians retreated three days up the Thames. Then they sent three warriors back to bury Tecumseh. One of these, a Delaware named Snake, was left to guard the canoe, while the other two, who were of Tecumseh's own tribe, located the chief's body and buried it. The two Shawnees told Snake where the grave was dug, and the three Indians took an oath never to reveal the spot. This was to prevent possible desecretion.

"The Shawnees went back to Ohio, where they rejoined the Prophet, Tecumseh's brother, and with him were transferred by the American government west of the Mississippi. They never revisited the battlefield. Snake lived to old age on the reserve at Moraviantown. Until his death he kept faithful but clandestine watch over the grave. When the Grand trunk railway was built through the battlefield he was afraid it would pass over the burial place. But this did not happen, and Tecumseh still sleeps in the secret grave where his warriors laid him to rest more than a hundred years ago."

Mr. Bacon is an old-time printer and got out the first papers ever published in Escondido and San Jacinto. He is also well known through his work as deputy county assessor of Los Angeles county from 1912 to 1920.

ONE DEAD, ANOTHER INJURED IN TONG WAR OUTBREAK

(By International News Service)

OAKLAND, Calif., June 30.—Seventy-eight Chinese were arrested and jailed last night as the result of an Oakland tong war outbreak in which one man was shot to death and another fatally wounded.

The outbreak began with the shooting of Wong Woh Yuen, a Bing Kong man, who was fired upon and killed by three alleged Suey Ying men in a rooming house at 320 Eighth street. Yashimatsu Nizuni, a Japanese gardener, who witnessed the shooting from an opposite doorway, was shot by the same trio immediately after and is now at the emergency hospital in a dying condition.

AMERICAN CITIZENS AS GERMAN CONSULS

Teuton Government Plans to Send Best Business Brains to America for Trade

(By International News Service)

BERLIN, July 1.—American citizens will be invited to accept appointments as honorary consuls in the smaller American cities if the big industrial interests don't sabotage this new offspring of the governmental thrift movement. Word has gone out from the Wirth-Erzberger government that governmental expenses must be cut to the barest minimum. Instead of satisfying the flock of office-seekers who were washed in on the Erzberger wave, Wilhelmstrasse plans to put the political guillotine to work lopping off useless heads.

New York and Chicago will in any case have regular consuls when the peace details are concluded. But, with the low value of the mark, Germany will not be able to appropriate the necessary millions to maintain the consulates in the smaller interior cities to the extent that consular service was developed before the war.

The group which proposes the honorary consular posts believes that a number of reliable Americans of German race may be found who will accept the posts as a matter of prestige. The consular corps—which for months has been busy making up unofficial slates as to who will get the choice American posts, which are now much sought after—will fight any movement which will cut down the number of appointments.

The big industrials are exerting pressure to send business men to America instead of professional diplomats and consular officers. Herr Hugo Stinnes has been working behind the scenes to send Geheimrat Wiedenfeld, an authority on coal, finance and national economy, to Washington. The industrials explain that, with the whole world fighting against German commerce, it is more than ever necessary to send their best business brains, even if the industries themselves have to bear the expense.

Little Joe was at grandmother's house for dinner. Although fried chicken and many other mighty good things were on the table, Joe did not care to eat much. Then grandmother began to coax him. One thing after another she brought to his notice. Finally she said: "Here's my homemade sugar cookies. Aren't you going to try some of them, dear?"

Little Joe attempted a smile. That's what is the matter," he explained. "I tried too many of them before dinner, grandma."

ZITA HAS NOT GIVEN UP HOPE OF THRONE

(By International News Service)

PARIS, July 1. — "Cherchez la femme"—that old French proverb was never so true as during the recent attempt of Charles of Hungary to regain his throne in Budapest. It was stated that only one person knew of his coup d'etat and that only one person perpared the plan. That person was Empress Zita of Bourbon Parme, Charles's wife. Even in her childhood, according to Monsieur de Bonnefon, a well-known French writer, Empress Zita was known for her domineering ways, as well as for her lovable and winsome manners. By her love she won over to her the people of Hungary, although she was a foreigner to them, for she comes of the French branch of the Bourbon Parme family. In Switzerland Charles and his wife became known as the young lovers. Zita is considered one of the prettiest monarchs of Europe. Unfortunately she has high ambitions and thirsts for luxury and an easy life, which she has not had in Switzerland since her exile. Thus she was goaded to persuade Charles to make his bold bid for his crown. She is considered the best of mothers and takes the utmost interest in her five children. To-day she has not given up hope of returning to Hungary as queen of that country.

BUSINESS MEN HUNT FOR LOST TREASURE

(By International News Service)

SEATTLE, Wash., July 1.—Here's another buried treasure story.

Fred C. Andrews, of Centralia, Wash., had a map supposed to direct the way to buried Spanish money on Swan island, in the Caribbean sea. Andrews says he received the chart from his uncle, who in turn had secured it while sailing on a merchantman which was attacked by pirates in the Caribbean in 1847.

M. C. Levison, president of an auto accessories company of Seattle, was induced to finance an expedition and, in company with Pete Marshalton and Louis Lehner, of St. Paul, Andrews and Levinson set out for the elusive "pot of gold." Securing the 40-ton fishing schooner Patsy, under command of Patsy O'Shea, they sailed from New Orleans on April 19.

They found the spot marked on the map but no sign of the treasure. On the return voyage a violent quarrel arose among members of the party, and none of them would speak to Andrews. Andrews says he has not given up hope, however, and will try again. He states the party left the island too soon.

Swan island, a small, cocoanut plam-covered island off the coast of Honduras, is the subject of traditional tales and is said to have been one of the rendezvous of Captain Kidd—of course.

NOTICE

The Entertainment Committee for the State Christian Endeavor Convention which has just concluded a most successful session in our midst, wishes to thank the citizens of Glendale for their kindness and hospitality in taking care of our delegates. Without your assistance the Convention could not have been the success everyone proclaimed it to be, and so in no small manner all those who so generously opened their homes to these visiting ghosts are responsible for this most profitable convention. Many of the residents signified their willingness to entertain delegates, but did not receive any, and we thank you, too, for your efforts in our behalf, and assure you that your work is no less appreciated than that of those who so royally entertained these visitors.
ETHEL M. PRESTON, Chair.
MRS. C. C. STOLER, Vice-Chair.
MARJORIE E. SMITH, Sec.

NOTICE!

Let the good work go on! Come to Sunday School at 9:30 Sunday morning. The ALPHA OMEGA CLASS will welcome you at the Central Christian Church, corner Louise and Colorado.

NOTICE

Once more the sun of freedom shines o'er Glendale young and fair. For the fog of Blue Fanaticism has vanished from the air. And we still can kiss our wives on Sunday. And our sweethearts and children pure and good. Without a formal permit—from the Ministerial Brotherhood.

SUMMER PLANS OF HUNTLEY FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Huntley will spend the week-end and Independence Day at Santa Barbara. Their daughter will be with friends at Balboa. A week hence they expect to leave by auto for the high Sierras, driving to Sequoia park, where Mrs. Huntley and her daughter will camp for the summer in Giant Forest and Mr. Huntley will pack out along the trails into the Mount Whitney country to hunt and fish. They expect to be away until the last of August.

Mr. Huntley is enthusiastic over Giant Forest as a summer resort. Its elevation is 6700 feet and it is always cool. When the mercury stands at 110 at Visalia in the valley below, it registers 75 to 80 in the forest. It has a great advantage in being free from mosquitoes and is easily reached, the paved highway running to within 25 miles. Of the unpaved road the rest of the way all except about eight miles of mountain road is good. That eight miles is narrow and rather dangerous. Last year Tulare county appropriated $15,000 for its improvement and repair, but that sum has not been sufficient, Mr. Huntley says, to adequately increase its width and considerably more money will have to be spent before it can be lined up with the rest of the road system and be made perfectly safe.

On their return the Huntleys will take possession of the six-room, story and a half bungalow they have built for temporary use on Highland avenue south of Kenneth road, and soon after will begin the erection of their permanent home on the same avenue north of Kenneth road.

NEW ENGLANDERS TO HOLD REUNION

New Englanders residing in this part of the state will get together in an all-day reunion in Sycamore Grove tomorrow under the auspices of the New England society. An appropriate program, following the basket dinner at noon, will constitute the entertainment that has been arranged by committees in charge. Each of the six New England states will maintain a separate headquarters.

Spain devotes more than 3,500,000 acres of land to olive culture.

BEAUTIFUL WEDDING TAKES PLACE AT HOME OF J. A. COOPER

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cooper, 607 North Isabel street, was the scene of a pretty home wedding last evening, when Mrs. Cooper's sister, Miss Hermione Rambarter, became the bride of J. Clarence Klamm, well known jeweller and optician of Glendale, and son of Mr. and Mrs. John Klamm of 1235 East Broadway.

The bride was charming in a becoming gown of white crepe, lace-trimmed and of simple design. She was attended by her sister, Miss Alma Rambarter, also in a beautiful gown of white.

The best man was the groom's brother, George Klamm.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. R. Norton and the impressive ring service was used.

The house was handsomely decorated in pink and green, a profusion of flowers and ferns carrying out the dainty color motif.

An elaborate supper was served after the ceremony and followed by the good wishes and congratulations of their friends, the happy young people departed on a honeymoon which they will spend in San Diego.

On their return they will be at home to their friends in a pretty bungalow which Mr. Klamm has built for his bride at 905 East Colorado street.

BIG POWER PLANT FOR NORTHWEST

(By International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore., July 1.—A superpower plant, which would mean consolidation of all power resources and the construction of a giant transmision line through the Northwest, is being considered by engineering authorities from various parts of the country, who are now in this section investigating the feasibility of the proposition.

At a meeting held in Porland a survey committee of engineers was organized, and upon the results of the committee's investigation will depend the decision as to whether the project will be carried out.

Eastern industrial and power concerns have professed faith in the superpower transmission theory, and construction of such a line between Boston and Baltimore, at a huge cost, has been proposed. Power authorities on the Pacific Coast believe the plan would be easier of fulfillment in the Northwest.

The principal feature in favor of the plan would be from the viewpoint of economy. Duplication of lines through the stringing of parallel wires would be avoided, and all power plants of the district would be "hooked in" on one service line, supplying the industries of the North Pacific territory.

With all the power plants of the Northwest pooled into one system a "power reserve" would be created which would provide an added resource for new industries contemplating operation mainly through the use of electricity, say engineers in charge of Eastern power line construction, who are here in an advisory capacity.

Industrial heads from Eastern States who have come to this part of the country, looking for industrial plant locations have said in the past that the principal drawback has been the lack of sufficient power at a minimum cost.

Portland civic leaders have long admitted that the lack of power has been the "skeleton in the family closet" of this city and look with a great deal of interest upon the work of the committee.

BAND OF AMERICAN LEGION WILL PLAY AT BURBANK FESTIVAL

The Glendale American Legion band of thirty pieces, led by Ray D. Crawford, will be much in evidence at the three-day festivities with which Burbank will celebrate the glorious Fourth.

The band has a prominent part in the program of each day and will no doubt acquit itself with credit, as it always does.

HEADQUARTERS ARE AVAILABLE FOR NIGHT USE

Headquarters of the Glendale Company of National Guard, located over the Glendale Branch of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank, will now be available for use at night as a result of the favorable vote taken last night by the Board of City Trustees on the application of Captain Thomas D. Watson that the city maintain the expense of lighting the rooms occupied by the Guard. The cost will approximate $2 per month.

The invitation, extended by the committee in charge of the Rodeo Carnival at Burbank, to the Glendale Guards asking that they camp at Burbank from July 3 to 5 was not accepted in view of the fact that the State Guard encampment at Yosemite begins July 10.

Leaving this afternoon for the National Guard Camp at Yosemite are Roy Weetman, Millard Young, Burdette Rockhold and Andrew Nelson who are selected from the local company to comprise a detail that will work in preparing the camp for the arrival of state troops on July 10. It was expected that more men would have been given an opportunity to proceed to Yosemite before the entrainment of the company but applications were so numerous that it became necessary to cut down on the number who might secure work there.

Insane Man Shoots Two

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—Mrs. Enmay Doray was killed and her brother, Peter Giraud, seriously wounded today when Giuceppe Rizzo, a roomer at the Giraud home, suddenly went insane and opened fire with a revolver.

Mrs. Doray was shot three times and died almost instantly. Giraud was shot once through the back and was taken to the emergency hospital.

Rizzo surrendered to the police.

pany had been notified. He was instructed to take the matter up with the company and see that the lumber was either removed from the site complained of or a permit secured. Mr. Simon urged the board not to grant a permit. The matter will be brought up before the city council next week.

The request of G. W. Birkoff for a place in the city hall where aliens may be registered, in conformity with the law's demands, was granted.

A communication from Mr. Gammon explaining the cause of the accident in which he drove an automobile into a lamp post, was read and was so satisfactory that the charge against him was cancelled.

Two applications for permits to do street work by private contract under the supervision of the street superintendent, were granted.

An application for a permit to establish an oil and gas station at 710 San Fernando road was granted.

A communication from George B. Woodberry asking that 28 acres he owns may be included in a zone district was filed subject to action on the zoning ordinance.

Annexation of Pacific Ave. District

At this point Mr. and Mrs. James Conner of 1662 Kenneth road entered the council chamber and Mr. Connor, with beaming countenance announced the outcome of the election held yesterday to vote on the annexation to Glendale of the district in which he lives. The official returns as he reported them were 42 to 13 in favor of annexation, and the announcement was received with much satisfaction by the board.

The report of the city recorder for June was presented and showed fines totalling $1320.50.

Bids for circuit breaker were opened and referred to city manager for checking and report.

Announcement was made that no protests had been filed against proceedings to change the grade of Lexington, Milford and Doran streets.

Pay of Election Officers

City Clerk Sherer asked for instructions relative to the pay of election officers, many of whom he said worked far into the night, and some of whom were on duty for 24 hours. On motion of Trustee Lapham the board voted to increase the customary compensation from $5 to $10.

Dogs Relieved of Muzzles

On recommendation of city manager based on report of city health officer, the board rescinded its order of May 12 ordering all dogs running at large to be muzzled.

Garfield Avenue Extension

Protests against the extension of Garfield avenue to Adams were reported as insufficient and a hearing was set for July 14.

Walnut to Become Orange

Acting on the request of residents of Walnut street, the board instructed City Attorney Shaw to draft ordinance to change the name of that thoroughfare to Orange street.

Election Canvas

Trustees Lapham, Robinson and Bartlett were appointed to canvass the returns of the municipal election of Tuesday and the formal resolution offered by Trustee Bartlett, declared that Councilmen Davis, Kimlin and Robinson, having received the greater number of votes, had been elected for terms which would expire the third Monday in April, 1925, and that Councilmen Lapham and Stephenson had been elected for terms that would expire the third Monday in April, 1923, the election of other officers being announced as per published election returns.

Lot Cleaning Resolutions

Three resolutions providing for lot cleaning, weed destruction, etc., were offered by Trustee Robinson and adopted.

Vine Reservoir Cover

Engineer Harry Lynch presented specifications and estimates totalling $1800, relative to a cover for the Vine avenue reservoir and the board voted its approval of the specifications and instructed the city clerk to advertise for bids, to be opened two weeks hence.

Peddling Cart Ordinance

An ordinance prohibiting the parking of vehicles on the public streets for the purpose of selling merchandise therefrom, was adopted.

Lot Cleaning Assessment

The consideration of the resolution covering lot cleaning assessments of 1920 went over until the next meeting, and the hearing of protests on lot cleaning was set for Tuesday evening at 7:20, July 5.

The board then adjourned to meet Friday at 1 p. m., to complete unfinished business.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Goode will be grieved to learn of the death of their seven-months-old son, Donald Ward Goode who passed away this (Friday) morning. Funeral services, which will be private, will be held in the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking Company Saturday at 2 p. m. with interment at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

CONVENTIONALISM IS OVERTHROWN

(By International News Service)

LONDON, July 1.—A strenuous and uphill fight is now proceeding to brighten life in the social clubs of London. It has been started by Colonel Manning, who, as a member of three clubs, has publicly complained that he had never been spoken to by any member who did not know him personally.

But, really, the Colonel has nothing to grumble about. The English idea of a club is of a kind of place of sanctuary—particularly a sanctuary from women and from one's fellow-men. And sanctuary has always meant unsociability. Membership of a club implies relief from ordinary social intercourse. Only after ten or fifteen years, and after having at the outset been introduced by a mutual friend, does the member of an English club feel compelled to reply to the salutation of a fellow member.

To the old-fashioned clubman indiscriminate conversation is an outrage. And if promiscuously addressed by a member junior to himself he would probably resign there and then. There is a story of a well-known and highly-respected member of White's Club severing his membership because another member had said "good morning" to him without being formally introduced.

"I can't stand these noisy, ill-mannered, ill-bred fellows," was his explanation to the committee.

At another old-fashioned club—of Scotch origin—the story goes that the inmates had attained to such a pitch of calm and serenity that no one ever spoke at all. Imagine then the surprise when, one morning, an old and respected member rang a bell and summoned a club servant.

"Waiter," said he, "remove that member. To my knowledge he has been dead for two days."

But the rumor that at the Athenaeum Club a waiter was assigned each morning to sweep out the members who had died during the night is denied on the best authority.

In any event the younger generation is getting restless. They want clubs to be places of freedom and sociability, not weighted down by an absurd conventionalism. And if they succeed the older clubs are likely to suffer sadly in membership.

FAMOUS AUSTRIAN HORSES USELESS

(By International News Service)

VIENNA, Austria, July 1.—Some enterprising Austrians have started a great row here by suggesting that it is high time that the famous sixteen white horses of the Spanish Riding School should get out and earn their salt.

A movement has been started to have the horses tour the world giving performances in every city for the benefit of Austria. But these horses, the last of the Austrian aristocrats to be supported out of public funds, have many partisans who feel that the proposal is nothing short of treasonable, so it looks as though the famous performers would continue to lead an elegant though lean existence in the Hofburg palace stables for some time longer.

The Spanish Riding School was a feature of the old Austro-Hungarian court, which started way back in the time when the Hapsburgs were rulers of Spain. Centuries ago the forerunners of the present unfortunate tribe were imported from Spain, and thereafter the Spanish Riding School horses were bred in Lipicza, on the Slavonian border, near Trieste. Each year sixteen pairs of milk-white steeds were selected for the court. These were trained in the Spanish Riding School adjoining the royal palace. Along a narrow flagged pavement, between rows of closely-set pillars topped with arches, these beautiful beasts were taught to waltz on their hind legs. They could not fall, because the pillars prevented them.

The riders were all famous aristocrats and all officers—the handsomest men and the best riders that the Austrian aristocracy could produce. They lived and dressed according to the most meticulous etiquette. On some occasions they wore pale, fawn-colored frock coats, with trousers of deerskin, high brown boots and a yellow tricorne hat. On other occasions they were gorgeously arrayed in coats of scarlet, with gold and black decorations, white breeches, shiny black top-boots and a black tricorne hat, with a gold and black cockade.

The appearance of the horses and riders of the Spanish School indicated the most extraordinary occasions, such as the visit of a foreign king or prince. The last time when they publicly appeared was on the occasion of the visit of Kaiser Wilhelm to old Francis Joseph, the Austrian Emperor, in 1915.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

(By International News Service)

LONDON, July 1.—Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, international women's turf court champion, today defended her title at Wimbledon by defeating Miss Elizabeth Ryan of California, winning in straight sets, 6-2, 6-0.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck of Illinois, daughter of the late Congressman W. E. Mason of that state, cannot be seated as a representative at large from Illinois by appointment of Governor Small of Illinois, Clerk of the House Wm. Tyler Page announced.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.— Mrs. Gaby E. Barry, said to be a close friend of Peggy Joyce, one of the principals in a sensational divorce case now being fought in Chicago courts, today was granted a divorce from Francis A. Barry, wealthy New York broker.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 1.—The Stillman divorce hearings before Referee Gleason here were adjourned shortly after noon today until July 13. James A. Stillman, the multi-millionaire ex-banker, suing his wife, Mrs. Fifi Potter Stillman, was not put on the stand again today and it was announced by his counsel that, according to present plans, he would not be called upon again when the hearing is resumed.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The possible location of valuable new oil fields in California was reported today by W. A. English in a bulletin made public by the United States geological survey. Explorations just made, it was stated, lead to the belief of new possibilities of oil lands in parts of the state, particularly northwestern Kern county and the San Joaquin valley.

PARIS, July 1.—It was reported here today that Georges Carpentier will receive the insignia of the Legion of Honor if he whips Jack Dempsey in their fight at Jersey City tomorrow.

COVINGTON, Ind., July 1.— Two masked bandits early today held up a Peoria and Eastern (C. C. C. and St. L.) passenger train, shot and probably fatally wounded the express messenger, dumped a safe out of the express car and escapedd.

CHICAGO, July 1.—As a majority of the 1,500,000 railway workers throughout the country reported for work today at reduced wages, their representatives were gathered in Chicago for a conference regarding the 12 per cent wage cut which is figured on to keep the wheels turning.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—Discovery of a vast new oil field on the west coast of Mexico, yielding high grade petroleum of parrafine base, was reported here today by officers of the steamship Fairhaven, who learned the news when they put in at Port Angeles, near which the new field is said to be located in the state of Oaxaca on the Isthmus of Tehauntepec.

LEIPZIG, July 1.—There was a dramatic scene in the war criminals court today when a witness from Alsace testified that he had seen Major-General Benno von Crusius, who is on trial charged with murder, shoot down wounded French prisoners in cold bloo.

"That is a lie, I never killed a human being in my life," shouted the accused officer, leaping to his feet.

PAID FINE RATHER THAN GO TO JAIL

Five dollars, or five days in the county jail was the alternative.

According to Judge F. H. Lowe of the recorder's court, there is never any hesitation on the part of a person found guilty of violating traffic regulations as to whether he will pay the fine rather, than the risk of developing prison pallor.

But at the recorder's court session today, G. C. Paup, 1759 Taft avenue, Los Angeles, who was arrested on June 29, for cutting a corner in Glendale, stopped to debate the matter in his own mind before the bar of justice. The court clerk leaned over and whispered in Mr. Paup's ear: "They'll put you on the garbage detail at the county jail—"

"Yes, I'll pay the fine; here's the five," said Mr. Paup.

When Austria was divided up a great question arose as to what was to be done with the milk-white steeds in the breeding grounds at Lipicza. Lipicza itself went to the Italians, and finally the horses were divided between the two countries.

But the sixteen chalk-walking beauties are still in Austria. It is to be feared that they get lean pickings in the Hofburg palace, and their gallant riders find small comfort now in gay frock coats laid away in camphor. Sic transit gloria mundi!

IODINE AND HONEY CALLED 'FLU' CURE

(By International News Service)

LONDON, July 1.—A new prevention for influenza has been discovered by Dr. J. A. Taylor, a prominent English medico.

Describing the result of his experiment in the British Medical Journal, Dr. Taylor says ordinary tincture of iodine is mixed with honey and placed on the tongue every two or three hours or oftener.

When the recent influenza epidemic broke out Dr. Taylor was in Uganda, and he says that while Europeans and natives who were treated in this way escaped the epidemic, in other settlements and camps around him the mortality was very high.

REUNITED WITH LONG-LOST SISTER

(By International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—Reunited, through a curious coincidence, with a sister from whom he had been separated for twenty years, a sick hero of the Dardanelles campaign and the sister for whom he had been searching are residing together in London, according to Everett E. Perry, Los Angeles librarian.

The two were brought together by the Los Angeles Public Library, which became interested in the case when a letter was received by Librarian Perry from the London soldier asking aid in his hunt for his sister, who, he thought might be living in Los Angeles, or vicinity.

While library workers were making an apparently hopeless attempt to find the missing woman, with the aid of the Los Angeles Police Department and the Sheriff's office, the woman was located by a strange development.

The brother had appealed to the library, knowing his sister to be a great lover of books. And it was through this slender clue that the woman was finally found.

The woman later entered the library and requested help in looking up data relative to questions in which she was much interested, said Librarian Perry. Writing her name and address on a slip of paper, she left the library, with the request that the information sought be mailed to her.

Librarian attendants noticed that the name of the woman was that of the sister of the disabled war veteran. She was at once communicated with and placed in touch with her brother.

A letter received by Librarian Perry from the grateful war veteran brought the news that the long-separated brother and sister are residing happily together in London.

Fattest Purse in History of Fighting Will Be Pulled Down—Betting Stands Three to One in Favor of Dempsey—Title Holder Predicts "Few Rounds"—Carpentier Cool and Confident of Victory—Knockout Is Only Chance for Georges to Wear Crown of Fistiana—Hundred Thousand Fans Will Gather at Shrine of Pugilism.

By JACK VEIOCK
International News Sporting Editor

RINGSIDE, JERSEY CITY, July 1.—Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier are ready for the bell that will call them to the mark tomorrow afternoon to battle for the world's heavyweight championship.

The American title holder, brown as a berry and trained to the minute, and his French rival, also in the proverbial "pink," marked time as they awaited the coming of 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, eastern daylight saving time, when the "battle of the century" will be on.

A great cosmopolitan crowd, gathered from nearly every corner of the globe, will pay homage at the shrine of Boxiana at a cost of several millions of dollars. If the great arena is filled to capacity, the gate receipts will total $1,600,000, for there are seats to accommodate 91,613 spectators at prices ranging from $5.50 to $50. Another cool million or more will have been spent by the fistic fans in traveling and living expenses, not to mention in betting, by the time the battle is over.

The boxers will pull down the fattest purse in the history of pugilism. Originally they were guaranteed $500,000, but now they will get a percentage of the gate, Dempsey to get 36 per cent and Carpentier 24 per cent of the net receipts, which insures them a total purse well above the original figure if the crowd fills the arena.

DEMPSEY STANDS THREE TO ONE

Promoter Tex Rickard, as well as the fighters, will break records. He will realize the biggest profit ever taken down by a promoter of a championship fight; he will pay the fighters the biggest purse and will amuse the greatest crowd that has ever witnessed a fistic engagement.

Harry Ertle, of Jersey City, will be the referee of the big battle tomorrow afternoon, which is scheduled to go twelve rounds. No decision is permitted in New Jersey, and because of this Georges Carpentier must knock out Dempsey to win the championship.

A big majority of the fistic bugs who will witness the battle, however, expects to see Dempsey successfully defend his laurels via the knockout route, and as a result the champion will crawl through the ropes a ringside favorite at 3 to 1 or better. Betting on this fight has been scattered, but the total amount of wagers of size reported up to an early hour this morning indicated that no records will be broken in the way of big bets, or the grand total.

Regardless of the fact that betting has been light, the bout has smashed all precedent in the way of arousing and holding the interest of boxing fans throughout the world. The international flavor of the bout—the first of its kind since Corbett fought Mitchell and the fact that it has been the best press-agented fight in history contributed to its luster as an attraction of world-wide interest.

"FEW ROUNDS," DEMPSEY PREDICTS

Sporting men from all corners of the world are here today to see the fight. They came from South America, Cuba, Australia and Europe. Followers of boxing from every state in the Union hold reserved seats and celebrities in many walks of life from financiers to national and state executives, were to be numbered among the visitors.

With the hour of the big fight nearly at hand, confidence was the keynote in the rival camps. Champion Jack Dempsey, always the optimist and full of confidence in his ability to defend his crown, said he expected to win. "No one can tell how long the fight will last," said the champion, "but you can say for me that I expect to win and hope to do so within a few rounds. No doubt Carpentier is a good fighter, but I believe I can defeat him and I will do it as quickly as I can."

Carpentier, calm and composed in face of the greatest battle in his ring career, also breathed confidence. "I have fought big men before," said the dapper Georges, "and I see no reason why the few pounds in weight and the slight difference in height and reach will give Mons. Dempsey an overwhelming advantage. I hope to win. I will figure out some way to defeat the champion just as I have done against men like Wells, Beckett and others."

VANGUARD OF MANY THOUSANDS ON DECK EARLY

Jersey City has been athrob with expectancy for many days. The city is crowded to overflowing, for while many fight fans from outside the metropolitan district parked themselves in New York and Newark, hotels, hundreds rented rooms and bunked in sleeping cars here.

The first gray streak of dawn tomorrow morning will see the vanguard of the great crowd commence its journey toward the ringside. As early as 5 o'clock, incoming tube trains and trolleys from New York, Newark and surrounding towns will begin to pour fight fans into this man's town. The earlier comers will be those who plan to crash the ticket windows for the $5.50 general admissions, and it is expected that every one of the eight entrances to the monster arena will be besieged by fight fans before 8 o'clock. The big arena, with its hundreds of tiers of seats stretching outward and upward from the ring in every direction, its dress of flags and bunting, presents a spectacle never before seen in connection with a boxing contest. Outside the big arena special details of policemen will keep the crowds moving and prevent the blocking of traffic. Mayor Hague of Jersey City cooperated in every way possible with Promoter Tex Rickard to handle the crowd successfully.

THE NEED OF COOPERATION

During the war everybody said there would follow a period of depression when peace finally came. Everybody got to believing this, and now 50 per cent of our troubles are due to the fact that we said they were going to come. It is partly psychological and partly because we misinterpreted economic conditions. If we only could realize it we have all the elements of a substantial prosperity in our own hands.

It is true that war destroyed billions of capital. It is true also that the decline of commodities brought about a tremendous slump in inventory values. It must be admitted that the world is now suffering from acute business depression. Nevertheless it remains with us to decide whether this depression shall be cured or whether it will remain chronic. The remedy lies especially with the leaders of the various groups of producers, including leaders of labor as well as leaders of capital.

The present slump in business differs from all past eras of depression. Hitherto trade has run into stagnation because of over-production and over-expansion and the collapse of our banking structure. These elements, fortunately, are lacking in the present situation. There is no absolute over-production, although in some lines we may see evidence of relative superabundance. There is not too much cotton, too much wool or too much leather if a normal demand existed. In 1911 the United States exported over 10,000,000 bales of cotton, and yet at that time there was no such a dearth of cotton goods as exists today. There is a world-wide need for shoes, for clothing and manufactured products.

Nor are we suffering from over-expansion, say, as in 1873. We are suffering from under-construction. We have railroads to build and homes to construct and roads to make. There is plenty of work to do to keep millions busy for years ahead. We have the industrial and financial tools for the task. Our productive mechanism is at the peak of its efficiency. Our mills and factories can supply the world. Our banking system is sound. What we need is the vision and the determination to forge ahead. There should be less class antagonism and a greater spirit of cooperation between employer and employe. Only as the nation as a whole prospers will the individuals succeed. We need a sobering sense of our responsibilities to the community. Capital and labor both should be less selfish, realizing that any special advantage reacts to the detriment of all. No obstruction should be placed in the path toward greater industrial activities.

Within a week after the immigration bill was passed Congress had to change it radically. And yet Congress is going to make a better peace treaty than the one made at Versailles.

One thing may be said in favor of changing styles: The wife will never get out a picture of her old sweetheart and flaunt it in one's presence.

One thing is certain regarding the Dempsey-Carpentier affair. The winner will suddenly blossom out as the most confirmed enthusiast of a dozen or more patent medicines.

If Mexico didn't have any oil this problem of recognition would be more simple.

GRAVE AND GAY

A young man was walking up and down the platform of a country railroad junction in England trying to see a car that had a vacant seat. He didn't find it, and assuming an official air, he walked up to the last car and announced in stentorian tones: "All out here; this car isn't going."

There were exclamations loud and deep from the occupants of the car, but they all piled out and made their way to cars ahead. The smile on the young man's face increased as he took possession of a seat and appropriated another for his luggage.

"Ah," he murmured, "It's a grand thing to be born clever! Now I wish they'd start."

By and by the stationmaster put his head in the door: "Are you the smart young man who said this car wasn't going?"

"Yes," said the clever one, smiling.

"Well," said the stationmaster, with a grin also, "it isn't. The brakeman heard what you said, and he uncoupled it. He thought you were a director."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Early to bed and early to rise, and you won't have to pull a sheet over your head to keep off the flies.

If a nation is suffering from density of population, it can always start a little war and effect a cure.

True love is the quality that keeps a girl from visiting a jeweler to learn whether the diamond is genuine.

No matter where he was born, if he turns to the sport page he doesn't know how to make a bomb.

Perhaps you have noticed that the young fellows pick one type to have a good time with and another to marry.

Original magazine artists about now will begin putting pictures of bathing girls on magazine covers.

A well known statesman was present at a dinner party. At his side sat an old country gentleman.

A conceited young man spent most of his time during the meal in making fun of this old gentleman. He kept on referring to him as the Philistine.

Finally the old gentleman said angrily: "I don't know what you mean by continually repeating that word. 'A Philistine,' he said, 'is a man who is annoyed by the jawbone of an ass.'

A kindergarten asked of her pupils which they would like to sing of the national songs they had learned the day before.

A little girl responded: "Let's sing the one where the fathers all took pills and died."

The words of the song were: "Land where my fathers died, land of the Pilgrims' pride."

We are fond of saying that we have no respect for a coward, but how do you account for so many who respect themselves?

A merchant had advertised for a boy. Late in the afternoon a red-headed, freckle-faced, blue-eyed, honest looking boy applied for the job.

"Do you like to work?" asked the merchant.

"No, sir," replied the boy.

"Then you can have the job," replied the merchant. "You are the first boy who's been here today who didn't lie about it and say yes."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

One Saturday afternoon a woman entered a grocery store. After ordering her weekly list of goods the grocer asked her if she would be good enough to take the things with her.

She became indignant.

"Well, ma'am," replied the grocer, I'm sorry to have to ask you to take them, but I've no one here—my right hand's away with a swollen foot."

Fresh Figs in Many Guises

Fresh ripe figs are one of the products in which we fortunate ones living within easy distance of the Pacific Coast may indulge, while to dwellers in many sections of the east this fruit is a rare or totally unknown luxury.

Fresh figs may appear at any meal during the day and be sure of a welcome. When cooked, a tart fruit juice, a spice, or a litle ginger should be added to give the proper amount of tang.

The following recipes illustrate the wide range of this most versatile and delicious product of the West.

Figs in Syrup—Boil 1 cup of sugar and ¾ cup of water for 5 minutes. Add 1 dozen whole figs and ¼ cup of crystallized ginger cut in pieces. Cook slowly until figs are tender but not broken. Serve cold.

Baked Figs—Place 1 dozen figs in an earthen dish. Pour a little water round them and bake slowly 30 minutes, then add the grated rind and juice of 1 orange and ½ cup of sugar. Bake until tender. Serve cold with whipped cream.

Jelled Figs with Almonds—Boil 1½ cups each of sugar and water for 10 minutes. Add 1 dozen large figs and cook until tender but not broken. In to each fig stick 6 roasted almonds and place in a serving dish. Dissolve 1 tablespoon of softened gelatine with the boiling syrup. Add the juice of ½ a lemon and pour over the figs. Set aside until firm and cold.

Scalloped Figs—Arrange alternate layers of sliced figs and crumbs in a greased baking dish, sprinkling each layer of figs with a little brown sugar. Over all pour the juice of an orange, dot with bits of butter and bake until brown. Serve hot with cream or a pudding sauce.

Fig Filling—Cook 4 cups of chopped figs and ½ cup of water until soft and smooth. Add ½ cup of sugar and the juice of ½ lemon and cook until thick. Cool and add ½ cup of chopped walnuts. Use as filling for cake, pie or tarts.

Fig and Orange Sauce—Cook 2 cups of chopped figs and 1 cup of water for 10 minutes. Add ½ cup of sugar and the juice and grated rind of 1 large orange. Cook until thick, cool, add ½ cup of finely chopped almonds and serve on ice cream.

Fig Conserve—Peel 4 pounds of figs and cut them in pieces. Add ½ cup each of orange and lemon juice, grated rind of 1 orange, 1 cup of chopped raisins and 4 cups of sugar. Cook slowly until thick, add 2 cups of nuts broken in pieces and cook 5 minutes. ly until thick, pour into sterilized glasses and seal when cold.

Pickled Figs—Boil 2 cups of vinegar, 2 pounds of brown sugar, 2 tablespoons stick cinnamon and ½ tablespoon of whole cloves 15 minutes. Add 6 pounds of figs, a few at a time if necessary, and cook until tender but not broken. Store in a sterilized crock.

Spiced Figs—Peel and chop 5 pounds of figs. Add 5 cups of sugar, 1 cup each of water and vinegar, 1 tablespoon ground cloves and 2 tablespoons ground cinnamon. Cook slowly until thick, pour int sterilized glasses and seal when cold.

STUDIO NEWS AND GOSSIP

TOM MIX ONCE A PROHIBITION OFFICER

Tom Mix, William Fox star, while out on location making exteriors for "Hands Off," the new Fox production, attended the races at Tia Juana. On the return trip with members of his company, a Mexican halted their automobile and inquired gruffly if the party carried any contraband liquor. Tom in excellent Spanish told the man he knew the law and his party had nothing with them.

"You fellows may not know it," said the star a few miles further up the road, "but at one time I had that kind of a government job—searching for illegal liquor.

"It was in the early Oklahoma days. My job was to search incoming trains for concealed liquor—Oklahoma, because of the Indian laws, being 'dry' even in those days. The first train I searched yielded five cases of whiskey and one of gin."

"What did you do with it?" one of the party asked.

"That was just the trouble," explained the maker of Fox Western thrillers. "I toted the booze to my office and staged a wonderful party with the gang, who left none of it. A few weeks later, the head man at Guthrie wired to know what I had done with the liquor, as the government expected me to turn it all in. Right there I chucked up the job and went down to Eagle Pass, where I joined the Texas Rangers."

"LAND OF JAZZ"

"The Land of Jazz," is the new William Fox comedy starring beautiful Eileen Percy.

This picture is of the rapid-fire comedy type, and is said to be the best story in which Miss Percy has appeared.

"The Land of Jazz" has some merry scenes on an island where a Dr. Carruthers is studying mental diseases. One of his patients believes himself to be the greatest shimmy dancer in the world, and he does the dance so fascinatingly that he turns the whole place into a wiggling mass of humanity.

Miss Percy takes the part of a rich orphan who is trying to get Dr. Carruthers to "make up" with her chum. She does her work so well that the doctor persuades her to marry him.

It is a merry story written by Barbara Le Marr Deeley. Jules G. Furthman directed the picture. Supporting Miss Percy are ten of the screen's best known players. Ruth Stonehouse, who plays Miss Percy's chum in the picture, is a star in her own right. Herbert Heyes is the leading man. Big fat Kewpie Morgan has a laugh provoking part.

Franklyn Farnum (not related to Wiliam Farnum, the Fox star), who has the part of a shimmy fiend, is a professional jazz artist who recently had an act on the Orpheum circuit.

Short Stories

Smith and Jones were personal friends, so one day Smith took a personal friend's liberty and said to Jones: "You mustn't take offense if I speak to you about something I have had on my mind for some time—just a little habit of yours." "Certainly not," responded Jones. "Nobody has ever had the nerve to tell you before," Smith continued in a hesitating sort of voice, "and you are such a splendid noble fellow." "Yes, yes," answered Jones. Smith cleared his throat; then with great determination launched out; "You're one of those fellows who never really know what is being said to them; you're always pursuing some train of thought. Any one can tell the time you are not listening by the far-away look in your eyes. You've offended a lot of people. Of course, it's terribly rude, only you don't know it. You mustn't any more, old chap"—putting his hands on Jones' shoulders. "Promise me you'll not." Jones was obliged then to face his friend. "Just what were you saying?" he inquired in a faraway voice.

Peabody Willoughby, the Boston philanthropist, was making an appeal for the Children's County Week association of Massachusetts. "There is a funny side, too," he said, "about the poor slum child's ignorance of the country's beauties and joys. I said one August day to a ragged urchin of seven or eight: 'You've got a rare treat coming. We're going to send you to the country for a week.' 'Nix,' said the urchin, as he took a cigaret stub out of his pocket and examined it carefully 'Nix on that, gran'pop.' 'Why,' I said, 'what's your objection to the country?' 'They got thrashin' machines there, ain't they?' said the boy. 'Well, it's bad enough here, wherer it's done by hand, begosh.' And he lit his cigaret stub and lounged off."

UNCLE SAM, WORLD LEADER

Uncle Sam has become the world's greatest captain of industry. So says Managing Director W. I. Drummond of the International Farm Congress, giving the figures, the facts:

The United States has 6 per cent of the world's population.

We own 7 per cent of the world's land.

We grow 25 per cent of the world's wheat.

We manufacture 85 per cent of all motorcars.

We produce 33 per cent of the world's silver.

We produce 66 per cent of the world's oil.

We dig 52 per cent of all coal used in the world.

We raise 60 per cent of all cotton of the world.

We produce 70 per cent of the world's copper.

We operate 40 per cent of the world's railroads.

We mine 40 per cent of iron and steel, and 20 per cent of the world's gold.

One of the most unusual straw hats in the world is that possessed by a cafe keeper in Marienbad. Every straw in it has been touched by the lips of royalty, for the hat is woven from the straws put in the drinks of the crowned heads of Europe who have frequented his cafe.

So far as area is concerned, 40 principalities of the size of Monaco could be set down in New York city, while to equal the American metropolis in population it would require about 373 Monacos combined.

Atlantis Cafe in Vienna Is Rendezvous of Sports

By DOROTHY THOMPSON
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

VIENNA, July 1.—Do you want to sell a handful of jewels or a wagon-load of grain—and no questions asked? There is a market in Vienna where it can be done.

If you are a Philistine you have probably wandered in and out of the place half a dozen times during a short sojourn in the city without realizing that you were in the most famous "schieber" exchange in all Central Europe and the Near East. For the Atlantis cafe bears no visible sign to distinguish it from any other coffee house along the Ringstrasse. Only the dealers in illegal traffic have put their cross over the door, and if you belong to the famous international of the profiteers, beside which the Third of Moscow is harmless as a dove, be you Italian, or Serbian, or Hungarian, or German, the Atlantis is the Mecca of your journeys.

It stands on the busiest Vienna street, across from the great Imperial hotel. Behind its plate glass windows, candidly open to every passerby, is a large room, upholstered in red leather, with comfortably padded benches along the walls and around the posts which support the ceiling. Arm chairs are fitted into cozy nooks, and efficient waiters trot from table to table, carrying syphons, filling liqueur glasses, pouring Turkish coffee thickly out of little copper mugs. The orchestra, goaded by a temperamental conductor, sighs out the strains of a heavy, honey-sweet Viennese valse. Altogether a typical Vienna cafe.

But if—instead of burying your nose in the Neue Frie Presse or the Arbeiter Zeitung, both of which are handily at your elbow, supported on frames fitted with handles—you look about you keenly you will hear strange whisperings and see hands reaching out to each other under cover of the table, and now and then you will see something gleam in transit. Or you will see eager heads bent together over some small package wrapped in tissue paper, and over and over again you will catch one word, repeated in all languages, "Combien?" "Quanto?" "Skolko?" "Wie Viel?" "How much?"

The Uninitiated Barred

If you want to do business in the Atlantis you must know the ropes. This is no place where you come in, put down your money and ask for what you want. You would be thrown out if you did, with indignant protests that this is no shop, but a cafe. No, you must know exactly to which table to go in order to dispose of grain, jewels, money, women.

Yes, even women are bought and sold, so they say, in the Atlantis cafe. Pretty Viennese, with their shoes run down at the heel and their stockings in holes, are offered positions as actresses in Rio Janeiro or Buenos Aires and are contracted for and shipped away. What becomes of them afterward no one knows, but many hazard a guess.

When you have seated yourself at what you judge to be the right table the conversation begins in cryptic phrase. Recently a man said to another laconically: "I have a wagon."

The other (equally laconically), "How much?"

The first man named his price.

The second: "Very dear. White or spotted?"

The first, snorting, "White or spotted! Are you crazy?" And he goes away in a huff. He had been trying to sell wheat at the bean table!

Around the different table different nationalities gather. It is mostly Jews who slip watches and cigaret cases and chains of pearls from hand to hand at the jewelry table. Dark-eyed and excitable Italians gesticulate in another corner over objets d'art; and Austria's pictures, ceramics and gobelins change hands arround glasses of coffee. The Italians are the noisiest and, so a habitue of the cafe assured me, spend more money than all the rest put together. Always at the Italian table are one or two Italian soldiers—who will be useful in getting goods over the border.

Passports Minus Red Tape

Serbs, Roumanians, Czecho-Slovakians negotiate chiefly in foodstuffs. From them comes the wheat to make the little white rolls which you eat with such pleasure in the famous restaurants, while the rest of Vienna lives on bitter black bread.

But more underground than the traffic in food is the traffic in passports. The "schieber" knows no frontiers. For five to ten thousand kronen, if you are a "wise one," you can get a Roumanian, or a Serbian, or a Czecho-Slovak passport that will take you where Bulgarian, Hungarian, or Austrian papers are useless. And vises—needless to stand in queues before the consulates if you have friends at the Atlantis. Any vise in an hour is the unadvertised promise of the gentlemen who haunt a particular corner of the cafe.

The Atlantis has its personalities. There is a little spectacled woman in a red hat, with the manners and bustle of an American stenographer who has been reading the success stories in the American magazines and means to rise. Mark her well. She is the liaison office between visitors to the cafe and all the Italian profiteers. She walks jauntily from table to table, finding here a man who wants to sell leather goods and there another who wants to buy. Now she is offering an exceptional bargain in a lot of gold lorgnettes. No one can estimate how great a volume of business she does in a single day.

Nor need you confine your interests to business in the Atlantis! Over there is the table where volunteers were collected for an army to bring down the social democratic regime in Austria. Refugee communists from Hungary gather at that table and, presumably, plot. The revolution table is in a secluded corner, and its habitues are usually very well behaved. Revolutions are quiet in Central Europe just now, much quieter than grain transactions.

STUDIES PROBLEM OF MAN'S ORIGIN

(By International News Service)

LONDON, July 1.—"Children born with rudimentary tails are not so rare as generally supposed."

This startling statement was made by Professor Arthur Keith, a famous anthropologist, during a recent lecture which he delivered at the Royal Institution.

During the discussion which followed the lecture several doctors declared that they had had professional experience with children born with "vestigial" tails, and one physician stated that among the recruits he examined for the army during the war no fewer than eight grown men possessed this peculiarity.

"Huxley's verdict that man can claim no place apart in the animal world, but is actually a member of it in substance and structure remains unchallenged to-day," said the professor.

"I have devoted over thirty years to examining the problem of man's origin and have come to the conclusion that Huxley and Darwin have exaggerated rather than underestimated the structural gaps which separate man from his nearest allies.

"Neither Darwin nor Huxley ever said or believed that man had arisen from the gorilla, the chimpanzee or the orang-outang. What they did say and what all anthropologists now believe, is that we must search for characteristics which man and the great anthropoids share to some distant ancestry which is common to both anthropoids and man.

"These apes do not represent a series of evolutionary jumps, culminating in man, but are end-branches from a common stock."

ART PENETRATES ARCTIC CIRCLE

(By International News Service)

EDMONTON, Alberta, July 1.—Igloo musicales and literary circles may become fashionable among the Eskimos. Dennis Anoktok, of Anderson River, leader of sub-polar cognoscenti, has written to Edmonton for a phonograph, forty records of recent songs and a dozen popular novels. His order came by the last mail from Dawson. The articles will go north by the first Mackenzie River steamer and will reach him in July.

The songs are those that have won the plaudits of the cabarets, the kind that jazz connoisseurs describe as "Knockouts, believe me"—mammy songs, hula songs, ragtime love, the gamut of blues from cerulean to indigo, passionate tabasco melodies warranted to heat an igloo when the temperature outdoors is seventy below. These ditties will give the Arctic its first taste of canned music.

Anoktok and his fur-clad high brows also will burn the midnight blubber over the pages of "Main Street," "This Side of Paradise," "Moon Calf" and other best-seller romances. What effect these cultural achievements of the white man will have upon the primordial souls of the Eskimos is for psychologists to conjecture. They may mark an epoch or start a riot.

Kindness Wins Fortune

(By International News Service)

ROME, Ga., July 1.—Kindness to a blind man has led Allison Gravely, ten-year-old youth, to a fortune. Ed Cousins, the blind man, cut off dozens of relatives in his will and when he died the boy inherited $10,000. The boy was adopted by Cousins, but a contest over the will probably will be made. The youth led Cousins about Rome for several years.

BURBANK RODEO TO BEGIN SATURDAY WITH ELECTRIC PARADE

The next event in which Glendale is interested is the great Rodeo at Burbank, July 2, 3, and 4. If all the numbers catalogued are put on it will be like a three-ring circus and then some. It is a big undertaking for a little city but Burbank has never lacked for courage.

It will begin Saturday evening with an electrical parade which will take place in the great arena at 8 p. m. Mny floats will be entered by cities and organizations of Southern California in a competition for which prizes have been offered by prominent men and institutions. Among these donors are the Los Angeles banker, I. H. Hellman, R. O. Church of the First National bank of Burbank, James Jeffries, the celebrated ex-pugilist, Wat Moreland, Walter Lawrence of the Farmers' & Merchants' bank of Burbank. The parade entries will be grouped in five sections; historical, industrial, floral, civic and fraternal, with prizes for the best in each.

Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, the historical pageant which has been heralded as such a beautiful spectacle will be put on by the Actor's Equity association of Hollywood, with about 5000 persons in character parts, participating.

Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, the wonderful Bible films of which we have been hearing so much, will be presented on five screens so placed in the arena that the entire audience can view them. As the amphitheater holds 25,000 people, there should be room for all who desire to witness this unusual production.

The grounds are about four blocks from the Pacific Electric cars. Automobiles will not be admitted, but a parking place has been provided outside.

GIRLS ADVISED TO USE MORE PAINT

(By International News Service)

LONDON, July 1.—That age-old suspicion that most of the dope of Beatrice Fairfax and other "advisers to the lovelorn" is really shoved into print by various mere men, in overgrown beards and shirtsleeves, tongue in one cheek, gets a jolt.

Maybe it's the ministers.

A minister of the gospel, to the village of Foxley, pens an announcement which brands him an adept. If he hasn't been conducting an advice-to-lovers column, Northcliffe, the British super-publisher, should send one of his bright young men immediately to sign a contract.

The high cost of being married has been increased by an addition to the cost of getting married.

The Rev. H. L. Warneford makes the announcement as follows:

"The Ecclesiastical Commissioners have raised the fees for marriages. The cleryman's minimum, which used to be $1.60 (to translate), or thereabouts, is now $3.38.

"Let us hope this raising of the fee will not make the swains in our parishes more shy, more hesitating, more cool and calculating.

COURSE IN HYGIENE AND CARE OF SICK

Classes Under Direct Supervision and Training of Public Health Nurse

The Health Department of the City of Glendale asks that the following letter be published as a means of acquainting the people of this city of an opportunity to enroll in classes, to be in session during July and August, under the auspices of the Red Cross, and which will deal with various phases of hygiene and the care of the sick:

HEALTH DEPARTMENT,
City of Glendale.
Glendale, Calif.,

"The American Red Cross Course in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick, will be conducted in the rooms of the Health Department, 125½ North Brand boulevard. These rooms are particularly well adapted for this class work, during the summer. An outline of the course is as follows:"

"Lesson 1. Causes and Prevention of Sickness."
"Lesson 1. Causes and Prevention of Sickness.
"Lesson 2. Health and the Home.
"Lesson 3. Babies and Their Care.
"Lesson 4. Indications of Sickness.
"Lesson 5. Equipment and Care of the Sick Room.
"Lesson 6. Beds and Bed-making.
"Lesson 7. Baths and Bathing.
"Lesson 8. Appliances and Methods for the Sick Room.
"Lesson 9. Feeding the Sick.
"Lesson 10. Medicines and other Remedies.
"Lesson 11. Application of Heat, Cold and Counter-irritants.
"Lesson 12. Care of Patients with Communicable Diseases.
"Lesson 13. Common Ailments and Emergencies.
"Lesson 14. Special Points in the Care of Children, Convalescents, Chronics and the Aged.
"Lesson 15. Questions for Review.

"There will be 15 lessons of about one and one half hours duration each. One half of each lesson period is devoted to theoretical instructions, and the other half to practical work and demonstration. The course presents an opportunity for you to obtain knowledge of proper nutrition, sanitation and hygiene, and of elementary nursing procedures which are recognized as necessary for the maintenance of high health standards.

"For enrollment and particulars regarding the class work, Phone Glendale 1300, Health Dept., or Glendale 1358, or call at Health Department between 8 and 10 a. m. and 1 to 2 p. m. Classes will be conducted by Miss Helen McAlonan, Public Health Nurse."

LONDON, July 1.—All London is interested in a kitten that has just been born. It is generally tabby, but on its white stomach is "1921" distinctly marked in gray fur.

The theory is that before the kitten's birth the mother's favorite resting place was a spot where a sack marked "1921" was continually before her eyes. The kitten's owner refuses to sell it.

"How fortunate it is," remarks a morning paper, "that women are not born with the date of birth on them."

Up to the time of the revolution, no county in England was more thoroughly English than the New England colonies.

CHILDREN DELIGHT A LARGE AUDIENCE IN VAUDEVILLE PROGRAM

The promise of the first program of the Children's Society vaudeville, put on by pupils of the Pearl Keller school at the Keller studio on North Brand, was fulfilled in the numbers presented Thursday evening and they were received with no less enthusiasm by the big audiencee.

The group dances were outstanding numbers, especially "The Storm," intended to interpret a scene in the opera of "William Tell," and a Gypsy ballet with which the program closed.

Cecilia Mae Fischer has made a great advance in her work within the past year which was revealed in the charming "Dragon Fly Dance" and "Skater's Dance."

Dorothy Dutton is another favorite who is not standing still. In a highly original solo dance appropriately named "Humoresque," and in a striking costume she designed herself, she delighted as usual the applauding audience.

A unique, arresting number was the Indian dance by Julia Pelley, assisted by Gould Moore, a characteristic Redman's celebration on a stage picturesquely set with pine trees. Julia was very beautiful in her costume of doeskin, heavily beaded, and feathered headband, but the truly barbaric element was Gould Moore, in a truly wonderful make-up and costume designed and executed by William Justema who had the pleasure of witnessing the enthusiastic reception accorded his work and of receiving the congratulations of all in the secret.

Shirley Hitchcock's solo dance "The Crystal," was lovely, and the work of her sister, Glen Hitchcock, in the "Eccentric Dance," was beyond praise as a bit of refined humor, and the toe dances by Margery Hunt and Elizabeth Turner, were charming.

Merna Kennedy has lost none of her grace and charm as proved by her contributions to the program. The Turner sisters again justified their popularity with the public. Little Howard Kent as usual made a great hit with his character recitations. In fact every number was a gem deserving a paragraph by itself.

The program Thursday night was equally good and included the repetition of some of the numbers mentioned. No small part of the success of the program was due to the fine music provided by two pianos at which Mmes. J. A. Wright and L. N. Hagood presided.

Pupils not already mentioned who had solo numbers, recitations, dances, or song and dance contributions were: Cora Frentz Dunn, Margaret Chase, Geraldine Keleher, Gould Moore, Gabrielle Bondeaux, Ethelwyne Kent, Doris Lee Brownell, Evelyn Hunt, Shirley Virginia Bennett, Ann Elizabeth Wilkinson, Stanley Phillips, Baby Tone, Evelyn Mitchell, Gladys Michel, Mary Alice Barton, Blossom Moore, Juanita Fiffeld, Grace Yarborough. Others who did not undertake solo numbers, but who were included in the beautiful group dances were: Mary Phillips, Eleanor Thompson, Mildred Thompson, Patricia Carline, Margaret Baruch, Mary Elizabeth George, Beryl Campbell, Virginia Wolfe, Muriel Curtis, Truman Curtis, Maurine Burke, Joan Everson, Jeanne Studer, Francis Dunlap, Laura Waller, Jacqueline Young, Doris Bradley, Ruth Reimiller, Vivian Nay, Pauline Berry, Marie Hearnshaw, Clara Clark, Nellie Aleshire, Dorothy Jane Godfrey, Virginia Clark, Katharine Sonntag, Roasnita Ruggiero, Helen Evelyn, Genevieve Marek, Juanita Fifield, Betty Glade, Catherine Galer, Jean Williams, Marion Ballard, Helen Orr, Bernice Smith, Emma Laura Cooper, Dorothy Salyer and Grace Dewar.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

ESTIMATED COST OF IMPROVING P. E. CROSSINGS

Obedient to instructions previously received from the board of city trustees, City Manager Watson at the regular meeting Thursday night, submitted estimates of the cost of improving Gardena avenue over the Pacific Electric right-of-way, in a communication which was referred to the committee of the whole for consideration. The general sentiment of the board appeared to be against relieving the Pacific Electric railway of the expense of paving the right-of-way between its tracks, as suggested in the railroad's proposition to grant such right-of-way in consideration of being relieved of all expense in connection therewith. Mr. Watson's communication follows:

June 30, 1921.

Honorable Board of Trustees, City of Glendale, Calif.

"Mrs. Bartlett and Gentlemen:—In regard to cost of improving Gardena avenue over Pacific Electric right-of-way:

"Under date of June 9, the city attorney reported that the Pacific Electric railway company would grant right-of-way for street crossing at this intersection provided the city of Glendale pay the cost of initial improvement, and we were instructed to investigate and report as to the estimated cost of such improvement.

"We have obtained from the Pacific Electric railway company an estimate of the cost of paving this intersection between their tracks and two feet on either side thereof, the total of which is $810. This estimate includes ballasting and replacement of ties as well as other items incident to reconstructing the railroad tracks over this crossing. We wrote E. C. Johnson, chief engineer of the Pacific Electric railway company, calling attention to these items, suggesting that they were not properly chargeable to the cost of paving the intersection. Mr. Johnson replied explaining that while the railroad tracks at this intersection do not require reconstruction at this time the improvement of the road crossing for street purposes would make it necessary that the roadbed be overhauled to afford a substantial base for the pavement. Furthermore, it is essential to obtain a sound footing to give the proper life to the crossing and avoid constant repairs to keep it in good condition.

"In addition to the paving of the right-of-way between the tracks and two feet on either side thereof, it will require 1900 square feet of five-inch concrete paving to complete the paving of the crossing. This is estimated at 30 cents per square foot, or $570. Adding $138 for incidentals, makes the total estimated cost $1518.

"The Pacific Electric company is proposing to grant the city an easement for street purposes over this crossing on the basis that the company be relieved of paying any portion of the cost of paving, the company to take care of maintaining that portion of the paving between their tracks and two feet on either side thereof. In considering the acceptance of this easement on the above basis, consideration should be given to the means of financing the necessary expenditures involved in view of the action of your board directing the city attorney to petition the railroad commission that an order be given to the Pacific Electric railway company to open up thirteen additional crossings over the Pacific Electric tracks on Brand boulevard. The total cost of improving all of these crossings, based on the above figures, would be $21,252. The cost of paving these fourteen crossings between the railrad tracks and two feet on either side thereof would be $11,340, and the cost of paving the balance of the several crossings would be $9912."

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

THEATERS

Glendale Theatre

A very merry comedy will be the feature at the Glendale Theatre today. It is a William Fox picture and is called "The Land of Jazz," and Eileen Percy is the star.

According to reports "The Land of Jazz" is well named. The big scenes take place on an island where a Dr. Carruthers is observing the peculiarities of twentieth century fanatics, including "nuts" on the shimmy. Miss Percy as Nina Dumbarton goes to the island to fix up a love affair between the doctor and her chum. However, she and the doctor fall in love.

Miss Percy has spendid support in Herbert Heyes, George Fisher, Ruth Stonehouse, Wilson Hummell, Kewpie Morgan, Blanche Payson, Franklyn Farnum and Harry Dunkinson.

Palace Grand

Those who like their photoplay entertainment liberally sprinkled with thrills and excitement need go no further today than the Palace Grand Theatre, where Tom Mix, William Fox star is appearing in "Hands Off," a drama of Texas life that contains more enjoyment to the reel than three ordinary western pictures.

Mix opened last night, and a typical Mix reception awaited him, for his followers in this city always look forward to a picture by the Fox star as one of the events of the season. Tom did not disappoint them, and rode, roped and shot to the satisfaction of everyone, as well as throwing in a few new special stunts.

One of the stunts was the rescue of a child from in front of a herd of stampeded horses.

HONOR THE FLAG

The Glendale Daily Press struck a responsive chord in its offer of a beautiful bunting flag with each yearly subscription paid in advance. All we could procure at that time were speedily taken and many applied for the flags after the supply had been exhausted. To satisfy these demands we have ordered a new supply, and these will be given on the same terms as were the first. The Daily Press is not doing this as a money-making proposition, for the flags are quite costly and the paper is worth every cent asked for it, but we desire to do our bit toward stimulating patriotism and reverence for the flag. We hope to eventually see "Old Glory" displayed in every Glendale home, and we want to do our part toward bringing this about.

Fill out the coupon below and bring it or mail it to the office, accompanied with $5 for a year's advance subscription, and a flag will be laid away for you. If in arrears, pay to date and a year in advance to get the flag.
